It takes guts to schedule your colon screening.

Regular colorectal cancer screening is one of the most powerful weapons against colorectal cancer. Screening can often find colorectal cancer early, when it's small, hasn't spread, and might be easier to treat. Regular screening can even prevent colorectal cancer.

The American Cancer Society recommends that people at average risk of colorectal cancer start regular screening at age 45. If you're at increased or high risk of colorectal cancer (or think you might be), you may need a screening even before 45. The most important thing is to discuss screening options with your healthcare provider.

Now, we know what you're probably thinking: yuck. Well, it's time to get over the embarrassment! Get off your behind and call your doctor to discuss your best screening options. It could save your life.

I was going to have a nice point-by-point explanation correcting each mistaken argument made against Five Flags on social media, but alas life caught up with me and I didn't have the time to do it justice before we print. But we have a lot of time before any votes and let's be honest, the kind of people who spew hate at the idea of a new Five Flags are not going to change their minds no matter how many facts I put out there to answer and refute their rationale, or "irrational," if you will. So why try? But I still will explain it here before too long because whether or not people change their minds, I do not want anyone claiming that they didn't get the facts. Put that one on the back burner for now.

So I'll talk more about my house remodel, mostly because I know it will rile the feathers of some Trumper named Daryl who took his valuable time to send me some fan mail recently...

"Bryce; Why do you think anyone gives a rat's ass about your bathroom.???!! Although reading about it is at least better than your stupid anti Trump rants!"

Thanks for reading, Daryl!

It's been over four months that some part of my house has been in complete disarray and this last weekend, everything went back into its place. It felt weird honestly. Suddenly my living room felt huge because I didn't have to look over the dining table to see the TV, as the dining room was emptied into the rest of the house as we finished the new ceilings and painting.

A big tip of the hat to my friend Jean-Michel, the Frenchman with the Midas touch, who went way above the call of duty in painting my ceilings. The dining room has had a damaged ceiling for so many years that it's simply weird to look up at a pristine white canvas up there.

My wife Christy and I hung two ceiling fans the other afternoon. We've hung one before and it was pure misery. But these two were much easier. We didn't even fight the whole time and are still happily married despite the experience. We did have to rewire one of them 10 times to no avail until we finally read the troubleshooting page and figured out that the factory screwed up in programming the remote upon shipping the unit so we had to re-pair the remote to the fan. Turns out we had it wired right in the first place. So we're both geniuses and stubborn dunces I guess. But the fans look sexy!

You know, I got through that chemotherapy crap with very little side effect, and now that it's a month after I finished,

I'm feeling the neuropathy for the first time and it makes it harder to keep on my feet all day finishing last minute fixes and cleaning the house. So thankfully my kick-ass in-laws keep showing up from Minneapolis to save another day. And my own mom came over to help clean up the dust from months of chaos. She is, after them, the queen of clean. But then she goes and breaks her hand cleaning my house. Some son I am, though she won't let me feel bad about it. She needs surgery but says it doesn't even hurt, so you know where my resiliency comes from. I should note that she kept cleaning for an hour after she broke it like it wasn't a big deal. I mean, we didn't know it was broken at the time, but she just shrugged it off.

Thankfully I'm good with a saw and a router or I'd have felt pretty worthless last weekend. I did what I could. I guess that's all you can do. My house is so clean now, I don't think it has ever been this clean. We dusted every knick knack and washed every fancy dish that we got for our wedding that we never actually used in 11 years. You know, the ones that sit out on a high shelf in the kitchen and decoratively collect 11 years of kitchen cooking grease and dust. It took nearly boiling water and a young priest and an old priest to exorcise the goo demons from those dishes. And I celebrated by serving dinner in them on Saturday night. Nice dishes. I should use them more the once a decade.

Maybe Coco the miniature rescue wonder poodle is happiest of all at the completion of the work. Over the years he has worn his neurotic excited path through the dining room, around the table and back to the entryway every time someone arrives or leaves the house. For the last four months, his path has been thwarted by obstacles from doorways covered in plastic to a living room filled with a dining room. So to get his little racetrack back in action is probably a dream come true.

I'd say no more projects for a while but we have one more bathroom to go, but it's a small "easy" remodel compared to what we just did. But maybe a vacation first. We earned it! ■

CENTER BABKA THEATRE
(2255 BENNETT ST)

Darryl Van Leer Presents The Norm of Greatness: A Tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. for University of Dubuque Heritage Center B.I.T.E. Size Series on Monday, March 16 at 7:30 p.m. and Tuesday, March 17 at 3:30 p.m.

Based on the essential writings of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., The Norm of Greatness: A Tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. opens with narration describing the tribulations of the Montgomery bus boycott. King's testimony of these events is given in the passionate sermon "Early Days." The performance also includes "I Have A Dream," "The Drum Major Instinct," "The Eulogy," and "I See the Promise Land."

Van Leer has been captivating audiences for more than 20 years with his one-man dramatizations that he writes, directs, and produces. He has performed at over 300 universities in the United States and has been honored with awards from the National Association for Campus Activities and Campus Activities Today.

A Q&A discussion with Van Leer follows the performance.

B.I.T.E. stands for Babka Intimate Theatre Experiences. The series of events showcase one-person or small cast performances in the intimate setting of Heritage Center's black box venue. With maximum capacity of about 200, Babka Theatre offers general admission and stadium-style seating.

Tickets are $20 for adults, $16 for UD alumni and military, and 9 for children and students. All tickets increase by $5 for purchases on the day of the performance. PIANO FONDUE, DUELING PIANOS

FRIDAY, MARCH 20

7:30 PM @ UNIVERSITY OF
DUBUQUE HERITAGE CENTER BABKA
THEATRE (2255 BENNETT ST)

University of Dubuque Heritage Center continues season three of its B.I.T.E. Size Series with Piano Fondue, Dueling Pianos in Babka Theatre on Friday, March 20 at 7:30 p.m.

Piano Fondue, Dueling Pianos is a fully-interactive, high-energy, all-request show that will have you singing, clapping, dancing, and rocking. The performance will be competitively crowdsourced. The entire set list will be projected for the audience to view, and it will update in real-time as new songs are added and the old ones change positions. Audience members will battle for the next song, cheering on their favorites and singing along to the classics that always seem to make it to the top—all while Piano Fondue entertainers lead the current song from stage.

A free pre-show reception will be held from 6 to 7:15 p.m. in the Bisignano Art Gallery in conjunction with The Wendt: Relentless Integrity and Social Media. The exhibit runs March 20 through April 18.

Tickets are $20 for adults, $16 for UD alumni and military, and $9 for children and students. All tickets increase by $5 for purchases on the day of the performance. Tickets can be purchased at the Heritage Center Farber Box Office; by phone at 563-585-SHOW; or online at DBQ.edu/heritagecenter. ■

P MOVIE NEWS

COMING TO THEATERS

ONWARD

FRIDAY, MARCH 6

Set in a suburban fantasy world, two teenage elf brothers embark on an extraordinary quest to discover if there is still a little magic left out there. The first of a surprising two Disney/Pixar movies of 2020. Soul follows in June. Starring Chris Pratt, Julia Louis-Dreyfus, Octavia Spencer, and Tom Holland.

THE WAY BACK

FRIDAY, MARCH 6

A former high school basketball phenom struggling with alcoholism is offered a coaching job at his alma mater. As the team starts to win, he may have a reason to confront his old demons. But will it be enough to set him on the road to redemption? Starring Ben Affleck.

MY SPY (PG-13)

FRIDAY, MARCH 13

A hardened CIA operative has been demoted and finds himself at the mercy of a precocious 9-year-old girl when he has been sent undercover begrudgingly to surveil her family. Meh. Starring Dave Bautista, Kristen Schaal, and Ken Jeong.

A QUIET PLACE 2

THURSDAY, MARCH 19

Following the deadly events at home, the Abbott family must now face the terrors of the outside world as they continue their fight for survival in silence. Forced to venture into the unknown, they quickly realize that the creatures that hunt by sound are not the only threats that lurk beyond the sand path. Starring Cillian Murphy, Emily Blunt, and Djimon Hounsou.

MULAN

FRIDAY, MARCH 27

The live-action adaptation of Disney's animated classic. When the Emperor of China issues a decree that one man per family must serve in the Imperial Army to defend the country, Hua Mulan, the eldest daughter of an honored warrior, steps in to take the place of her ailing father. Masquerading as a man, she is tested every step of the way and must harness her inner-strength and embrace her true potential. Featuring Liu Yifei and Donnie Yen.

MOVIE BUZZ

Succession standout Ashley Zukerman has been tapped for the title role in Langdon, NBC's drama pilot based on Dan Brown's best-selling thriller novel The Lost Symbol, taking on the character played by Tom Hanks in the movie trilogy The Da Vinci Code, Angels & Demons and Inferno. Langdon follows the early adventures of the famed Harvard symbologist who must solve a series of deadly puzzles to save his kidnapped mentor and thwart a chilling global conspiracy. Ok, it's not a movie, but we approve!

Paramount and Hasbro's M.A.S.K. movie is moving forward as it recruits the writer of Bad Boys for Life, Chris Bremner. Based on the toyline that launched in 1985, the Mobile Armored Strike Kommand team is a mix of G.I. Joe and Transformers and became quite popular as a result. After also receiving an animated TV series at that time, M.A.S.K. is now in development to go to the big screen. Paramount hired F. Gary Gray to direct the film in 2018, as their plans for a Hasbro cinematic universe were in the early stages, but there hasn't been much movement on it lately. Writer Bremner is also currently writing National Treasure 3 for Disney and is attached to do Bad Boys 4 at Sony.

Now that Rian Johnson's Knives Out is a bonafide hit, Lionsgate is officially moving forward with a sequel, with Johnson in the early stages of writing the script. His script on the first film was nominated for an Oscar. Johnson was talking about the possibility of making a follow up starring Daniel Craig's Benoit Blanc as the only returning character, which makes sense. The goal is to have the new film "be totally different from Knives Out in a lot of ways, but hopefully it will have the same essence of the stuff I love."

Matt Damon and Ben Affleck get medieval for Ridley Scott's The Last Duel, currently filming in France, with Damon starring opposite Adam Driver as the 14th century knights Jean de Carrouges and Jacques Le Gris, who participated in the last officially sanctioned duel in the country after the former accused the latter of raping his wife (Killing Eve's Jodie Comer). The script was written by Damon, Affleck, and Nicole Holofcener. "Ben and I wrote the male perspective and Nicole wrote the female perspective". The film will open Christmas Day and go wide on Jan. 8, 2021.

TOPDOG/ UNDERDOG

MARCH 5-7 @ 7:30 PM
MARCH 8 @ 2 PM
7:30 PM @ CLARKE UNIVERSITY
JANSEN MUSIC HALL
(1550 CLARKE DR)

The Clarke University Drama and Musical Theatre program will present Suzan-Lori Parks' Topdog/Underdog. The performance runs March 5-7 at 7:30 p.m. and March 8 at 2 p.m. at Clarke University Terence Donaghoe Hall.

A darkly comic and contemporary fable of brotherly love and family identity, Topdog/Underdog tells the story of two brothers, Lincoln and Booth. Their names, given to them as a joke, foretell a lifetime of sibling rivalry and resentment. Haunted by their past, the brothers are forced to confront the shattering reality of their future.

Because of adult language and themes, the production is intended for mature audiences only.

Tickets are $10 for general admission, $7 seniors, $5 non-Clarke students, and free for alumni. For more information, call the Clarke University Drama Department at 563-588-6550. ■

COPPÉLIA

MARCH 28 AND APRIL 4 @ 7:30 PM

MARCH 29 AND APRIL 5 @ 2 PM

GRAND OPERA HOUSE
(135 W 8TH ST)

The Heartland Ballet presents Coppélia, a comic ballet for the whole family at the Grand Opera House. Performances are March 28 and April 4 at 7:30 p.m. and March 29 and April 5 at 2 p.m.

Dr. Coppélius, a lonely old alchemist, creates his "daughter" Coppélia, a mechanical doll so lifelike that Franz, a village youth, becomes infatuated with her and sets aside his heart's true desire, his fiancé Swanhilda. She shows him his folly by dressing as the doll, pretending to make it come to life and ultimately saving him from an untimely end at the hands of the inventor.

This enchanting story is brought to life by the incredibly talented dancers of the Heartland Ballet and set to the glorious music of Léo Delibes.

Tickets are $23 for adults and $15 for children under 18. Tickets can be purchased in person at the box office, by calling 563-588-1305, or at TheGrandOperaHouse.com. ■

THE CHOIR OF MAN

THURSDAY, MARCH 5

7 PM @ FIVE FLAGS THEATER

When Five Flags General Manager H.R. Cook booked this show, he told us, "I'm not sure how I'm going to explain this show to people, but people gotta see it!" H.R. saw The Choir of Man himself and confirmed that it is everything they promise it to be. "Bring your mom, because she's going to love it, but here's the thing... you're going to love it too. You're just going to have a blast smiling and singing along. This is what all shows should strive to be."

So the bottom line is, if you like high energy singing and dancing and possibly handsome dudes, get your tickets. No, it is NOT a night of Irish pub songs, but it is in a pub. The music is all songs you know and love and the show will force the grumpiest of husbands to tap their toe. And that husband can go up on stage and get a free beer too!

So let's talk about the show a bit. Known across the globe as "the ultimate-feel good show," The Choir of Man offers up 90 minutes of indisputable joy. It's a party. It's a concert. It's a pint-filled good time set in a real, working pub that combines hair-raising harmonies, high-energy dance, and live percussion with foot-stomping choreography. The multi-talented cast of nine handsome blokes sings everything—pub tunes, folk, Broadway, classic rock—all to roof-raising heights. It's the best singing, dancing, stomping, pub crawl of a show you'll ever attend!

Imagine the greatest pub gig you've ever been to, multiply it by 10, and you'll still be nowhere near the fun that this show exudes. The show celebrates music that has wide appeal including songs by Adele, Queen, Paul Simon, Katy Perry, Red Hot Chili Peppers and more. The cast features world-class tap dancers, singers, and instrumentalists, ensuring that there is something for everyone in this joyous and uplifting show for all ages.

FREE BEER: The stage features a working bar, and audience members (21 and over, of course) are invited to come on stage prior to the performance and have a free beer poured by one of the cast members.

Don't find out after the show that you missed the best show in years. Just get your tickets and thank us later!

Tickets are $39-$79. ■

TRILOGY

IN MY LIFE

A MUSICAL THEATER
TRIBUTE TO THE BEATLES

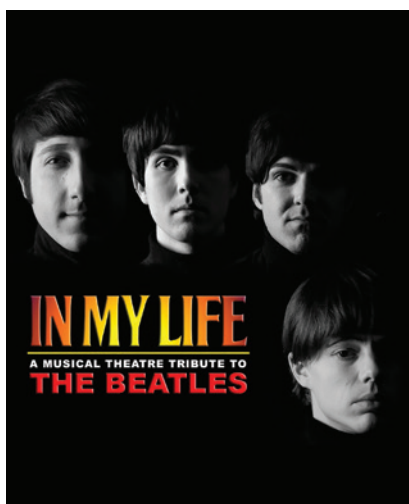

SATURDAY, MARCH 14

7:30 PM @ FIVE FLAGS THEATER

In My Life: A Musical Theatre Tribute to the Beatles is the award-winning musical biography of the Beatles through the eyes of manager Brian Epstein, featuring the live music of renowned tribute band, Beatles For Sale. The show is widely considered by industry insiders to be the most unique Beatles show in decades. Celebrate the four mop-head rockers at the Five Flags Theater on Saturday, March 14 at 7:30 p.m.

More than just a Beatles tribute concert, In My Life gives you a chance to "be there" at pivotal moments in the extraordinary career of the Beatles—from Liverpool's legendary Cavern Club, to the Ed Sullivan Show, Shea Stadium's 50,000+ screaming fans and their final live performance on the rooftop of their Apple Corp offices. With manager Brian Epstein serving as Narrator, In My Life allows the audience to get a glimpse inside the world of the Beatles from their point of view, as well as hear some of the greatest songs ever written.

"The show delivers!" said the L.A. Times. "If you see one tribute show, see this one—smart and loads of fun," said the O.C. Register. "This is the ticket for you," said the Idaho Statesman. "The most original of all the shows on the Beatles," said the San Diego Theatre Review.

The Beatles For Sale band recently concluded a three month residency at the Harrah's Reno showroom. The band also headlines Harrah's Tahoe, Harrah's Rincon, Pala Casino and several House of Blues. The band members look and sound like the real deal and range in ages of 19 to 30 years old.

Tickets are $35-$65. ■

MIDWEST SPRING JAM

BONE THUGS-N-HARMONY, TWISTA, AND DO OR DIE

SATURDAY, MARCH 14

8 PM @ FIVE FLAGS ARENA

Hip-hop legends Bone Thugs-N-Harmony will be joined by guests Twista and Do or Die for the "Midwest Spring Jam." The show will take place on Saturday, March 14 at 8 p.m. at the Five Flags Arena.

Bone Thugs-N-Harmony has been ranked among the greatest rap groups of all time. The Cleveland-based quintet debuted in 1994, shortly after Eazy-E had signed them. The following year, they released their breakout album, E. 1999 Eternal, which topped the Billboard albums chart. The album contained the hits "1st of tha Month," "East 1999," and "Tha Crossroads," which would become the group's best-performing single. It topped Billboard's Hot 100, Rap, and R&B charts in the summer of 1996. All told, Bone Thugs-N-Harmony have tallied more than a dozen Top 40 hits, the most recent coming just two years ago, when their track "Fantasy" reached #13. Throughout their career, the group has collaborated with a veritable "who's who" of music, including Mariah Carey, Tupac Shakur, Notorious B.I.G., Phil Collins, and Tom Morello (of Rage Against the Machine).

Twista has been one of the pre-eminent names in the Chicago hip-hop scene for more than a quarter-century. His breakout came in 2004 with the release of his album Kamikaze. The disc's lead single, "Slow Jamz," was a collaboration with Kanye West and Jamie Foxx that hit the top spot on the Billboard Hot 100 and was the first No. 1 for all three artists. Twista followed "Slow Jamz" up with his second Top 10 hit, "Overnight Celebrity," which earned him a Grammy nomination for Best Solo Rap Performance. Twista is known for his rapid-fire delivery and was even certified as the world's Fastest Rapper by Guinness World Records. He recently appeared as a guest judge on the Netflix hip-hop competition show Rhythm + Flow.

Fellow Chicagoans Do or Die are also longtime veterans of the city's hip-hop landscape. Their first mainstream success came in 1996, when their debut single "Po Pimp" reached #22 on the Billboard Hot 100 while topping the publication's Rap chart.

Local rapper Lyric will be one of the openers.

The "Midwest Spring Jam" follows the success of last summer's Nelly concert at Five Flags, the venue's first foray into hip-hop in many years. Approximately 3,400 tickets were sold for that show, one of the venue's highest-attended event of 2019.

Tickets are $29-$69. ■

HARLEM GLOBETROTTERS

FRIDAY, MARCH 20

7 PM @ FIVE FLAGS ARENA

The world-famous Harlem Globetrotters, featuring larger than life entertainers, will bring their all-new show, "Pushing the Limits" to the Five Flags Center on Friday, March 20 at 7 p.m.

Don't miss your chance to get up close and personable with a star-stuffed roster including Big Easy Lofton, Hi-Lite Bruton, and woman stars TNT Lister, Swish Sutton, and Torch George. Every show features a blend of hilarious hijinks and incredible basketball skills including ball handling, high flying dunks, and a new record-breaking attempt. The Harlem Globetrotters are a one-of-a kind experience putting a new spin on family time. You won't want to miss these memories worth repeating, so get your ticket today!

Tickets are $20-$80. ■

COLE SWINDELL

DOWN TO EARTH TOUR

THURSDAY, MARCH 26

7 PM @ FIVE FLAGS ARENA

Country music chart-topper Cole Swindell will bring his Down to Earth tour to Five Flags Center on Thursday, March 26 at 7 p.m., marking the Georgia native's first visit to Dubuque. The show features special guests Hardy and Trea Landon.

Swindell began his music career as a songwriter, penning hits for Luke Bryan, Thomas Rhett, Scotty McCreery, and Florida Georgia Line. He stepped out on his own in 2013, when he independently released his debut single "Chillin' It," a crossover hit, not only topping Billboard's Hot Country Songs chart, but also reaching the Top 30 of the publication's pop chart.

Swindell followed up that success with the release of his self-titled debut LP in early 2014. The disc was pushed to platinum certification by a string of additional hit singles, including two Country Airplay chart-toppers: "Hope You Get Lonely Tonight" and "Ain't Worth the Whiskey."

Swindell's subsequent releases have also found their way to the top of the charts, with nine of his singles reaching the No. 1 or No. 2 position on Billboard's Country Airplay chart. Swindell was also named the New Artist of the Year by the Academy of Country Music at its annual awards in 2015, and received a nomination for a similar award from the County Music Association.

Swindell will be joined a pair of rising country singers. Hardy released his debut album, Hixtape, Vol. 1, this past September and his debut single, "Redneck," has already moved into the Top 30 of both Billboard's Country and Country Airplay charts. Additionally, Hardy just nominated for the Academy of Country Music Songwriter of the Year award. Meanwhile, Trea Landon is currently developing a following online and through his live shows. He's toured with the likes of Luke Combs and Riley Green and has more than 200,000 monthly listeners on Spotify, where he's been featured on the "New Boots" and "New Music Nashville" playlists.

Tickets are $37.50-$57.50. ■

AIR SUPPLY

FRIDAY, MARCH 27

7:30 PM @ FIVE FLAGS ARENA

For the first time in nearly 38 years, legendary pop group Air Supply will return to the Five Flags Center. They take the arena stage on Friday, March 27 at 7:30 p.m.

Air Supply formed in 1975 when Graham Russell and Russell Hitchcock met during rehearsals for a stage production of Jesus Christ Superstar in Australia. After mild success in Australia in the late 1970s, the group broke out in the United States in 1980 with the release of their album Lost in Love, which sold more than three million copies. They followed that up with two more platinum albums—1981's The One That You Love and 1982's Now and Forever—plus their gold-certified self-titled effort in 1985.

Air Supply was one of the most successful groups of the early 1980s on the singles charts. They hit No. 1 in 1981 with "The One That You Love" and reached the Billboard Top 10 more than a half-dozen other times with signature songs like "All Out of Love," "Lost in Love," "Even the Nights are Better," and "Making Love Out of Nothing At All." In addition, the group reached the Top 40 of the Adult Contemporary chart 15 times, most recently in 2010 with both "Dance with Me" and "Faith in Love."

Air Supply last graced the Five Flags stage in July of 1982, while supporting The One That You Love. That show followed another Five Flags performance just 10 months earlier. The two shows drew a combined crowd of more than 6,600 people.

Reserved seats are $42-$98. VIP Tickets are $179. ■

DUBUQUE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

CLASSICS 4: CAPTIVATING CONCERTI

SATURDAY, MARCH 28 @ 7:30 PM

SUNDAY, MARCH 29 @ 2 PM

FIVE FLAGS THEATER (405 MAIN ST)

The Dubuque Symphony Orchestra's 61st season celebrates the 50th anniversary of its Dubuque Symphony Youth Ensembles program with an entire season devoted to the theme of youth. Classics 4: Captivating Concerti will be performed on March 28 and 29 at the Five Flags Theater.

The DSO welcomes two soloists on this program: pianist Lorraine Min and violinist Terence Tam.

Beethoven's early piano concerto shows all the mastery of his later pieces, and it broke new ground in its exploration of new sounds for the piano and the orchestra. The Saint-Saëns concerto is thrilling and virtuosic, with gypsy flair that continues in the exciting Dances of Galanta by Hungarian composer Kodály. Humperdinck transforms Hansel and Gretel from a simple child's tale into a lush example of German late-Romanticism.

Tickets start at $18. Student tickets are $8 and are available 1 hour before each Classics performance. For more information, call 563-557-1677 or visit DubuqueSymphony.org. ■

JOHN MUELLER'S WINTER DANCE PARTY

SATURDAY, MARCH 21 @ 3 & 7 PM

John Mueller's "Winter Dance Party" is the official live and authentic re-creation of Buddy Holly, Ritchie Valens, and the Big Bopper's final tour, and the only show endorsed by the Holly, Valens, and Richardson estates. The live performance includes over two hours of unbridled, high-voltage entertainment featuring the hit songs of the 1950s, including "That'll Be The Day," "Peggy Sue," "Oh, Boy," "Rave On," "La Bamba," "Chantilly Lace," and many more. Mueller, the critically-acclaimed former star of the U.S. touring version of the London/Broadway hit musical Buddy—the Buddy Holly Story, performs as Buddy Holly with Linwood Sasser as the Big Bopper and Ray Anthony as Ritchie Valens. The authentic and energetic four-piece band (guitar, drums, stand-up bass and sax) includes Grammy Award-winning Mike Acosta on saxophone.

DAVID VICTOR: THE HITS OF BOSTON & STYX

SATURDAY, APRIL 4 @ 8 PM

David Victor, formerly of Boston, features the greatest hits of Boston and originals in a blazing show. Feel-good rock 'n roll hits, original music, killer vocals, and a compelling stage performance. Featuring multiple lead vocalists that together create four part harmonies which must be heard to be believed. The show is classic American rock 'n' roll delivered with polish and showmanship second to none.

Lead vocalist David Victor was featured as guitarist and co-lead vocalist on Boston's summer 2012 and 2014 tours of North America and in 2013 at the sold-out Boston Strong Benefit with Aerosmith. David also sang on Boston's 2014 No. 1 hit classic rock single, "Heaven On Earth."

Victor wanted to form a band to get ready for his upcoming Boston tour. Combining the extensive catalog of Boston with the hits of Styx made this band an act with wall-to-wall hits! The show includes instantly recognizable hits like "More Than A Feeling," "Peace of Mind," and their No. 1 smash hit from 1986, "Amanda."

MISSISSIPPI MOON BAR ENTERTAINMENT

All shows at the Mississippi Moon Bar are 21+ only, and tickets are available at the Diamond Club or the Mississippi Moon Bar Box Office inside the Diamond Jo Casino or online at MoonBarRocks.com.

LIVE MUSIC FEATURES

THU 3/5

MC Chris

6 PM @ SMOKESTACK (62 EAST 7TH ST)
TICKETS: $20 ADV/$25 DOOR
MC Chris is from Libertyville, IL, a suburb of Chicago and raps about nerd life: Star Wars, Harry Potter, ninjas and unrequited love. He has released 18 albums and toured across America as a headliner as well as opening for bands like Pinback, Reggie and the Full Effect and Ninja Sex Party. He's collaborated with Talib Kweli, Andrew WK, Cee-Lo and Childish Gambino. MC was one of the pioneers of Adult Swim as a writer, actor, songwriter and animator for shows like Sealab 2021, The Brak Show, Space Ghost Coast to Coast and Aqua Teen Hunger Force. MC raises money to fight Cystic Fibrosis. All ages. eventbrite.com.

Pathology, Mutilated By Zombies, Tu'Mera Divine

10 PM @ THE LIFT (180 MAIN ST)
COVER: FREE
Pathology is epitomized as the ultimate death metal assault to the ears. Since their formation in 2006, the San Diego-based band has managed to release a new album almost every single year. The band's hunger to churn out bludgeoning metal coupled with meaningful themes instantly separates them from the rest. Rounding out the bill: Mutilated By Zombies and Tu'Mera Divine.

SAT 3/7

Soulscape: A Music, Art, and Dance Experience

7 PM @ SMOKESTACK (62 EAST 7TH ST)
COVER: $10
Soulscape is an evening of art, music, and dancing to celebrate a sacred journey of inner wonder, connection, and soul. The opening exhibit will include music by Audeka, Matt Rissi, Emple, and Hoax. Ranging from ambient, experimental, dubstep, house, techno, and more. See more on page 12. 21+ after 9 p.m.

The Earthlings, Flowpoetry

10 PM @ THE LIFT (180 MAIN ST)
COVER: FREE
The formation of Madison-based The Earthlings itself is reflective of their sound: malleable, multi-polar, and evolutionary. With a base rooted in groove and dynamism, the music traverses the genres of the '50s to the present era, exploring early rock n' roll drive and folk swing with a neo-reggae and electronic elements.

SUN 3/8

Christopher's Very Happy Band.

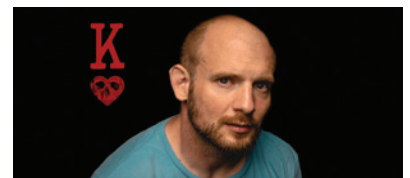

5 PM @ FLATTED FIFTH BLUES & BBQ (300 POTTER DR, BELLEVUE, IA)
Now more than ever, we all need a little more happiness in our lives. You have stumbled across a possible antidote to the general malaise currently afflicting our culture. The jubilant sound of Christopher's Very Happy Band. results from a combination of bright sounding compositions played with joyous abandon by its four members.

WED 3/11

We Banjo 3

7:30 PM @ MINERAL POINT OPERA HOUSE (139 HIGH ST, MINERAL POINT, WI)
TICKETS: $25-$35
Debuting in the U.S. in 2012, The Galway, Ireland, and Nashville-based quartet—comprised of two sets of brothers, Enda and Fergal Scahill and Martin and David Howley—seamlessly converge the shared and varied traditions of Americana, Bluegrass, and Celtic music with pop-sensible songcraft to create a truly unique and gratifying signature sound. Banjo, fiddle, mandolin, guitar, and percussion effortlessly elevate lead singer David Howley's propulsive voice. WB3 donate $2 for every t-shirt and CD sold on their U.S. tours to organizations that work to provide mental health resources. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. 608-987-3501. mineralpointoperahouse.org.

Mac Lethal, crypt, Feral the Earthworm, taiyamo denku, casethejoint, mic smiths

9 PM @ THE LIFT (180 MAIN ST)
COVER: $10
Mac Lethal, the Kansas City-based rapper known for his viral videos, wry humor, and faster than lightspeed rapping is bringing his King of Hearts tour to The Lift in Dubuque.

Super Happy Funtime: Farewell Show

10 PM @ THE LIFT (180 MAIN ST)

COVER: $10

Super Happy Funtime Burlesque is a 12 member live band, a burlesque troupe, and a circus act that is all together too contemporary, too modern, too bawdy, and too controversial to be defined just as "burlesque." For 10 years it has been traveling the nation in its big red school bus, performing what can best be described as performance art and musical theater bridged with burlesque. Reminisce of the early stage productions of Rocky Horror and Hedwig and the Angry Inch; this rock and roll circus/burlesque/comedy/DIY punk theater monstrosity must be seen to be believed. And this is your last chance to see it. After 15 years of SHFB, and 10 of touring nationally, it is time to lay this beast to rest. In April of 2020 they take SHFB out one last time for their farewell tour, will you miss it or will you be one of the privileged to say that they were there?

WENDY'S NEW BREAKFAST MENU

BY DANNY FAIRCHILD

Wendy's founder, Rex "Dave" Thomas died Jan. 8, 2002. I remember because for years I wanted a piece of him and I thought I'd lost my chance. Just five minutes in the ring with him. That's all I wanted. He was 69 (nice) when he died and I was a young buck of 22, so I'm not saying it would have been a fair fight.

In fact, I guarantee it wouldn't have been a fair fight. I would have fought dirty. I would have fought to win. "But Danny!" you say. "How could you have possibly had beef with that sweet, jowly old man? He was so charming in those commercials! If you don't mind my asking...Where's the beef?"

the one standing in the way. And it took other chains offering breakfast all day before Wendy's finally pulled the trigger on this new menu. You thought you were so special, didn't you? You thought doing things differently than other chains would set you apart. Differentiate you from the competition, right? Square burgers! Ooooh! How original! Hot chili! Ooooh! Neato! And NO breakfast menu! Whoa! We've got a badass over here!

First of all, that was a pretty sick Wendy's commercial reference. Good job.

Secondly, are you telling me you bought in to his wry, folksy, huge wire-rimmed charm? You're a fool. A FOOL! The man turned his daughter into a mascot! Then he complicated things even further by making her collar and necklace spell out "MOM." As someone with a lifelong predilection for redheads, this... this caused some damage to young Danny Fairchild.

And now that his empire has introduced a brand new breakfast menu, I figure...now's my chance. I have a soap box here and I'm going to use it. Time to square things. If their patties are any judge, that shouldn't be difficult for Wendy's.

So! Dave! I hope you're rolling in your grave knowing that your empire now serves breakfast. It didn't start serving breakfast until 2007, a couple years after your death, so I can only assume you were

I went to your restaurant over on Wacker Dr., DAVE...if that is your real name (It isn't. See above.), and I tried a bunch of your new breakfast items. And I got a lot to say about them.

Don't you go thinking for a second that I'm impressed that your eggs (except for the eggs in the Sausage, Egg & Cheese Burrito) are "fresh-cracked" instead of poured. You don't get credit for buying eggs that are still in the shell. That's just how they come. I buy whole eggs all the stinking time! It's one of the cheapest staples I buy. Nobody's giving ME a high five for it.

And oh, gee! Potato wedges! Ain't that friggin' special? What, you took a look at those pressed hash brown patties other chains offer as their default breakfast side and you think you're too good for them? You think you can impress me with cute little potato wedges seasoned with cracked black pepper and garlic powder? Come on! Black pepper and garlic powder? I don't get out of bed for black pepper and garlic powder, let alone depend on it for seasoning my breakfast. Are they tasty? Oh, absolutely! They were friggin' delicious. In fact, I just found one under some desk clutter and I happily popped that li'l spud right into my mouth. But that's not the point! The point is I hate you, Dave Thomas.

And you think you can just make things all right with your Honey Butter Chicken Biscuit? You're messing with the wrong man, Mr. Thomas. MY biscuits are non-friggin-pareil so if you're going to come at me with a crispy, seasoned chicken fillet topped with maple honey butter on a fluffy buttermilk biscuit, you'd better bring some friends! I don't suffer fools gladly. Does it taste good? Oh, hell yes, it does! The maple honey butter adds a delightful twist to a breakfast classic! It offers a wonderful combination of sweet and savory not seen since the introduction of the McGriddle and I anticipate that other fast food chains will be fast to imitate it.

Sausage, Egg & Swiss Croissant? You kidding me? You think you can take what other chains have perfected over decades of R&D, change the cheese, and say, “Hey! Look what’s new!” I only ordered the thing to see if your sausage patties were really square-shaped like your hamburger patties. They are! Shocker! You think you can change the color of the cheese sauce and impress me? I’m not! I’m not impressed at all! I mean sure...it was tasty. And the shape of the croissant vaguely reminded me of the chocolate chip croissants I used to get downtown. But I wasn’t impressed! I was merely satisfied. And anyway, that’s not the point! The point is that Dave Thomas thought he could get out of what’s coming to him by simply dying. I think I’m proving him wrong today.

The Breakfast Baconator. You just friggin’ HAD to, didn’t you? There was an unspoken rule, Dave, and your company broke it. You shouldn’t use traditional buns on your breakfast menu items. That’s why fast food breakfast sandwiches are traditionally served on a biscuit, a bagel, a croissant, or an English muffin. Hell, even convenience stores know this. What, did you think you couldn’t rightly call it a Baconator without a traditional bun? You couldn’t take that grilled sausage, American cheese, applewood smoked bacon, fresh-cracked egg (again, go to hell), add even more cheese and more bacon and cheese sauce and throw it on a Bays? By the way, you heard me right: That’s sausage with bacon, cheese, more bacon, and more cheese. So if you’re wondering where all the sodium in the world went, it’s in the Breakfast Baconator. And yes...It’s absolutely delicious, it’s a Baconator, for crying out loud. They could have served it sandwiched between the filthy floor mats of my 2006 Chrysler Sebring and it would taste wonderful. That’s NOT the point! The point is, Dave Thomas never got the butt-kicking he deserved!

So there you go! Breakfast, and justice, have been served. Served with a bottle of Simply Orange OJ. Take that, Dave Thomas. You grey-haired, jowl-faced, apron-wearing, kind-eyed, big eared, warm-smiled, slightly balding, short-sleeve-shirt-with-a-tie sporting, daughter-exploiting, jerk face! I hate you. And now everybody else does, too.

And I know what you’re waiting for, reader. You’re waiting for me to tell you about the bathroom. You’re dying to know whether the bathrooms at Wendy’s are a safe and clean place to do your potty. I’m going to have to disappoint you. I’m sorry. It’s not that I forgot. It’s just that I went through the drive-thru. But I’m sure their bathrooms are fine. ■

CRAWDAD PRINCIPLE
BY MATT BOOTH

One of our favorite summer activities is catching crawdads. We call them crawdads; you might know them as crawfish or crayfish. Growing up across from the Catfish Creek, our 8- and 10-year-old boys will spend hours trying to catch those quick little lobster looking guys.

The boys quickly learned that a crawdad's skeleton is their shell on the outside and when they grow too big for it, they go through the molting process. The only way crawdads continue to grow is to shed their entire exoskeleton. They must loosen and literally jump or crawl out of their old shell. As you might imagine, it takes enormous effort to do this, and, I'm guessing the process is probably painful too.

Once a crawdad has broken out of its shell, it is particularly vulnerable. If the crawdad survives long enough, without being crushed or eaten, the exterior of its body slowly hardens as a new, roomier shell is formed. Molting doesn't happen just once but throughout a crawdad's life. If it continues to grow, it must molt.

Our boys aren't much different than the crawdaddies they catch. They needed more protection from me when they were younger. If I continued to protect them the same today as I did when they were 4 and 6 years old, that protection would be a constraint preventing them from growing and being able to take care of themselves. What once protected them and allowed them to grow would be holding them back.

As the boys grow and shed their old shells, it leaves them exposed and vulnerable. At 4 and 6, I would have never let them go to the creek by themselves. Now, I let them go if they have their lifejackets. When they grow, they are vulnerable, and the results are surprising and sometimes unpleasant.

The process of molting requires you to extract yourself from the familiar and the comforting. This isn't easy and can be downright painful. You might be uncomfortable because you've outgrown your old life and your old self. You may voluntarily elect this process, as in the case of letting go of a job you hate in search of work you love. Or, you may choose to end a relationship that is no longer fulfilling so that you can find a partner that better meets your needs and can return your love equally.

Even though your skeleton is on the inside, I encourage you to embrace the molting process. Just like a crawdad, you can't change by maintaining a single shell and refusing to be vulnerable. It is that vulnerability that accelerates growth. To lead the best possible life, you must loosen and literally jump or crawl out of your old shell and your old self. As you might imagine, it'll take enormous effort and will be painful. What has been protecting you, might be exactly what is holding you back. ■

CHECK YOUR ATTITUDE

Staying positive in an ever increasingly negative world is a difficult task. To maintain a mostly positive attitude, bring wabi-sabi into your life. Wabi-sabi is a Japanese term that reminds you to find beauty in the imperfection of this world. It is the ability to slow down, and shift from doing to being and to appreciate rather than perfect. Wabi-sabi is everything that today's sleek, mass-produced, technology-saturated culture isn't. To discover wabi-sabi is to see the beauty in something that may first look decrepit and ugly. Wabi-sabi is embodied in frayed edges, rust, and liver spots. To be a mostly positive person, appreciate the difference in ideas, people, and places with humility and simplicity. Practice wabi-sabi to Check Your Attitude! If you Check Your Attitude enough and you won't have to worry about Covering Your Butt!

FIVE REASONS TO EAT AVOCADOS FROM MEXICO

BY HY-VEE NUTRITIONISTS MEGAN HORSTMAN (ASBURY) AND AMY CORDINGLEY (LOCUST)

1. Good Fat. The majority of fat is monounsaturated fat, a naturally good fat for heart health.
2. Fiber. Good source of fiber. One-third of an avocado provides 3 grams of fiber.
3. Folate. Good source of folate, important for proper brain function and a key nutrient for pregnant women that may help prevent birth defects.
4. Lutein. Dark green layer closest to peel has the greatest concentration of carotenoids, including lutein, which helps maintain eye health.
5. Easy to use—sliced, diced, smashed, stuffed or whole—for breakfast, lunch, dinner and snacks. ■

HOLMES & WATSON

BY BOB GELMS

Every once in a while I get a chance to write about my favorite literary characters. Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson rank near the top of my favorites list: Professor James Moriarty, not so much.

Anthony Horowitz, the only writer sanctioned by the Conan Doyle estate to write Sherlock Holmes adventures since Conan Doyle died in 1930, has written an original SH short story. It runs 27 pages long and, in my humble opinion, goes by much too quickly. It's entitled The Three Monarchs.

SH, since the beginning of his consulting detective career, has had an abusively low opinion of the Detective Inspectors who work for Scotland Yard. There is a smidgen of discovery here that SH doesn't dismiss, out of hand, everyone who works for Scotland Yard.

One morning a knock on the door at 221B Baker Street revealed Inspector Athelney Jones of Scotland Yard seeking a consultation with Holmes and Watson. The good Inspector was introduced to Watson as "our friend." Jones was completely confabulated by a burglary where the thief was killed in media res. He called on Holmes to ask for his help with the case. As mentioned Holmes liked Inspector Jones so he agreed to help and Dr. Watson followed along.

The third house the burglar broke into was occupied. The lady of the house ran and got her husband who came armed with a pistol and he shot the burglar in the face killing him.

First, Holmes and Watson went to the morgue to visit the corpse of the thief whose identity was still unknown. Second, they interviewed the people who were burgled.

Third, they had the victims' inventory of what they lost and all of them lost a china statue of the Queen commemorating her Jubilee, hence, the three monarchs. Holmes pondered that. They lost a statue of almost no value. Who was this dumb burglar? Holmes thought that perhaps the burglary happened after the killing.

Another thought passed through Holmes' mind: "When you have eliminated the impossible, whatever remains, however improbable, must be the truth." However, it didn't seem to be working that way. Holmes needed to dig a little further. He started interviewing the neighbors, and he got seemingly unrelated information that held the solution to the case. He went back to question the gunman. Everything fell into place.

The Three Monarchs by Anthony Horowitz is short but mighty sweet. You'll waste about 45 minutes reading it, and it will be time well spent.

BLASPHEMY, SACRILEGE, HERESY

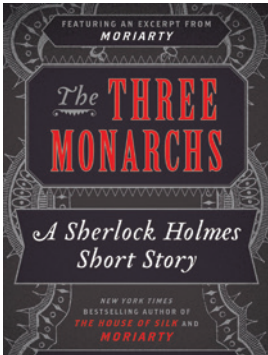

An American writer, Anna Castle, has tried to tackle one of the paragons of British literature, Sherlock Holmes in a three book series. The first book in the series is Moriarty Meets His Match. To an adjunct member of the Baker Street Irregulars, me, Moriarty Meets His Match is a silly little experiment that crashed and burned. She upturns every aspect of the Sherlock Holmes stories that made them timeless. She seems to have forgotten you don't tug on Superman's cape, you don't spit into the wind, you don't pull the mask off that old Lone Ranger, and you don't mess around with Arthur Conan Doyle.

This is a murder mystery that the brilliant genius and former mathematics professor James Moriarty starts to investigate there at the scene where he was present until the Johnny-come-lately, the arrogant, unkind, supercilious, condescending, patronizing, and pompous Sherlock Holmes Esq. shows up and starts to take over. Holmes declares Professor Moriarty to be the murderer and has him thrown in jail. Never mind that HOLMES IS COMPLETELY WRONG ABOUT MORIARTY AND HOW TO USE THE CLUES TO POINT TO THE GUILTY PARTY.

Poor, misunderstood Professor Moriarty. He is understanding, shows compassion, kindness, and is magnanimous toward the man who had him tossed in the Old Bailey. He clearly is a gentleman whereas Mr. Holmes is a bumbling idiot.

I had to find it funny to be able to read it. I have discovered that I might be the only reviewer in North America who didn't like it. They all treated the book seriously. In it, Moriarty meets a stunningly beautiful actress from American who is visiting London. The good, kind, chivalrous, protector of women, children and fuzzy little bunnies, Professor James Moriarty falls unabashedly in love. They are married which acts as a bridge to book two.

If you are a serious fan of Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, approach Anna Castle's Professor & Mrs. Moriarty Mystery series as if you are about to step on a Black Mamba. ■

Gwen Danzig's Good Advice

DEAR GWEN,

I have social anxiety, so I'm rarely out and about with friends. Most of the time a friend, maybe two, will come by my apartment and watch TV, as that's what I'm most comfortable doing. The people I hang around are super supportive and understanding with me and, because they like me, they choose chilling with me on the couch over going out. I'm running out of Netflix shows to put on. I feel extra bad making them watch The Office again because it's keeping them from being super social. What should I throw into the rotation?

—Sincerely, Anxious in Asbury

DEAREST DARLINGEST ANXIOUS IN ASBURY,

First of all, I am also so anxious I have an unopened voicemail on my phone from October 26. October 26. From a friend. But I do not know why she called, so I have not opened it, and I have not (will not) ask her about the contents of said voicemail. I can't delete it in case she dies. But anyway, it's like it never happened (except the push notification looking me in the eye every single time I open my phone).

Onward. I'm going to give you the rundown on this new Netflix series called Love is Blind. It is a show that is decidedly not good, but there are 10 episodes, each running between 48 and 84 minutes. Friend. It requires so much time.

Love is Blind is a show wherein lonely people literally propose to each other without seeing each other even once, after talking through a wall approximately four to five times. It is so deeply broken that while I was watching, I missed two entire meals simply because I forgot food existed. To watch people willingly participate in some wild dystopian content creation is, as they say, the ticket. It is mindless and offensive and perfect if you sorta want to re-watch The Jersey Shore, but you're pushing 30, and you've made the transition from bringing bags of Doritos to parties versus carefully fanning out charcuterie. I'm not saying this is a civilized television show, but they do drink a lot of chardonnay.

Full disclosure: I cried when one of the couples got together. Which is proof of my deep Disney brainwashing and my own derangement. For perspective, existence has rendered me so broken that last week I put garlic powder on my cottage cheese in an effort to feel something, anything at all.

So anyway, I'll say it again, it is not a good show. It is a very bad show. An astonishingly bad show.

—xoxo Gwen

DEAR GWEN,

My cats will not leave me alone when I'm eating. I've tried everything short of eating in my room with the door shut. I know you've got cats, any ideas?

—Earnestly, Feline Mama, Famished

DEAR FELINE MAMA, FAMISHED,

Binx, my blind cat, starts screaming if he hears a can opener. Literally screaming like he is going to die. Dishes, my street cat, will sing a Shakira cover at 4 in the morning so as to say, "Hey lady, I feel like you've forgotten I used to shake down other cats for snacks on the outside." Fara, my third cat, will just lurk quietly so you forget she's a menace, and when you're not looking, will swipe your food and/or fizz onto the carpet. I've tried baby gates, but even Binx will launch himself over like kitty Daredevil, somehow finding my plate, no matter where I set it.

Most of the time I just tolerate it because I love them. But sometimes I set up a kitty western. I set out one can of canned food and they all stand around waiting for one to draw their pistol. It gives me time to shove a frozen burrito down my throat. And it's cute.

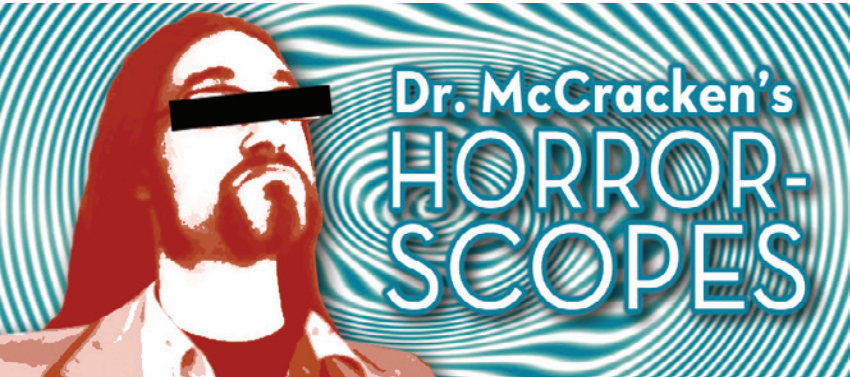

2nd option: karate?

—xoxo Gwen

ARIES
(MAR 21–APR 19)
There could be a bit of confusion in your world when it comes time to explain to your landlord why there are life-size, horse-shaped stains on the carpet, drapes, walls, and ceiling all over your place of residence. It's best to be direct and honest most of the time, so keep that in mind as you flee the country.

You might be better off just letting the issue sit for now and deal with it later when the facts are clearer and you're not high on PCP.

GEMINI
(MAY 21–JUNE 20)
Be aware of the fact that things may not be as they seem until you end up in court and they're recounting all the stuff you did and then, yeah, it's probably exactly as it seems.

CANCER
(JUNE 21–JULY 22)
Trying to make sense of what's going on might not be the easiest task, so just see how many Cadbury Creme Eggs you can eat in an hour and then have your stomach pumped in slow motion to match the beat of "Bridge Over Troubled Water" playing on a record player that runs on dread.

LEO
(JULY 23–AUG 22)
There could be a strange façade over the "screaming into an empty leather pillowcase" situation that you should be aware of before you act on the "screaming into the bottom half a Shrek costume that's essentially just an old pair of plaid pajama pants" situation.

VIRGO
(AUG 23–SEP 22)
Let go of control and the desire to make sense of the script to Police Academy 3: Back In Training appearing written all over your body in your handwriting one morning. Some things are just an act of God, and some things are an act of your buddies slowly leaking nitrous into your room and then writing the entire script to Police Academy 3: Back In Training

- all over your body based off samples of your handwriting they've been collecting for months.

Your lucky number is an incredible Cinderella story. This unknown comes outta nowhere to lead the pack at Augusta. He's at the final hole. He's about 455 yards away, he's gonna hit about a two iron, I think. Boy, he got all of that. The crowd is standing on its feet here at Augusta. The normally reserved Augusta crowd is going wild for this young Cinderella who's come out of nowhere.

Your fantasy world is especially active today, so you might feel the urge to continue looking up into the sky and trying to imagine a place where there's no such thing as good or evil or light or sound and the entirety of the universe is a simple thrumming that's not quite a sound and not quite a feeling and then you'll realize you forgot to leave that chicken out to thaw before work and everything will be ruined forever.
