ALL BACON SERVED SEMI-CRISPY.

Well, two weeks ago I wrote about the Poison Free Parks issue. This arose from a social media-based push to get the City of Dubuque to stop using harmful chemicals to treat public parks in favor of other methods. While I obviously was aware of the issue online, it was not exactly on top of everyone's radar screens, at least to my perceptions.

What a difference two weeks makes. I'm not saying my column started a revolution or anything, but the timing sure was fortuitous considering what's been in the news this last week.

To be fair, the city was doing something about the issue. The word just wasn't getting out very well. I was under the impression that progress was slow on making solution decisions. Before the last two weeks, I don't know if most people even knew it was an issue. Clearly it was and the city responded, with a step in the right direction.

In December of 2015 the City Council established an Integrated Pest Management Work Group with responsibility to bring a policy through the Parks and Recreation and Environmental Stewardship commission to the City Council by July 1, 2016.

Here's what was shared with and approved by the City Council on Monday night, March 21st.

The Leisure Services Department, Park Division has committed to making nine (9) parks pesticide free in 2016. These include:

1. Allison Henderson Park, 1500 Loras Blvd
2. Cleveland Park, 625 Cleveland Ave
3. Falk Park, 1701 Earl Dr
4. Riley Park, 3556 Lunar Dr
5. Pinard Park, 2819 Pinard St
6. Southern Park, 200 Southern Ave
7. Teddy Bear Park, Gabriel Dr and High Cloud Dr
8. Welu Park, 3655 Welu Dr

Maus Park, Huff Street

All but Maus Park contain playgrounds. Parks were chosen that were throughout the Dubuque community. The pesticide free approach in these parks begins immediately. The Public Information Office is developing signage for the parks. Contract bid forms have been changed to reflect that they are pesticide free and that the contractor is not allowed to perform any chemical control in this park. Additionally there will be information posted on the city's website and in the Leisure Services summer program guide.

Additionally Usha Park which is located at 3937 Pennsylvania Avenue will be the first pilot for The Pesticide Reduction Zone System similar to a Lawrence, Kansas program. Only part park will be treated to ensure the successful implementation of native perennial plants.

In each of these areas listed above the city will engage the DBQ Poison Free Parks and any other volunteers willing to pull weeds in the playground areas. Time to put up or shut up, I guess.

The working group still is developing an integrated pest-management plan for council consideration by July. The plan aims to develop the most effective and least-toxic method for pest control at all city facilities and grounds.

Meetings will be held in the coming month to discuss a notification process for when chemical spraying is to be done in and on city property beyond current state laws. The chemicals used in city parks and recreation areas are already approved by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and are applied in accordance with state and federal regulations. But, then again, this is the same Federal government that says school lunch pizza counts as a vegetable, so... it never hurts to be better than average. Especially if you are an award-winningly sustainable community like Dubuque.

Overall, I think it's a great move in the right direction. The city did respond to citizen concerns and is taking action. Dubuque Poison Free Parks advocates also applaud the move but think there's a long way to go. I get that continued pressure to eliminate all harmful pesticides is what creates change, but I'm a realist. I know that turning on a dime is not always easy and like anything else, there will be a phased approach to these and test runs to see how things go. With change comes learning and adapting. Public education is a must regarding this issue. There may be more cost, maybe less. There were reasons that pesticides were used in the first place. If healthy people and animals are a priority now, then pristine green spaces may have to become less of a priority.

At least no one is calling for a giant wall and insisting we get the bugs to pay for it. ■

UNIVERSITY OF IOWA MUSEUM OF ART DISCUSSION SERIES
DALE FISHER DISCUSSES JACKSON POLLOCK

4 PM @ MAQUOKETA ART EXPERIENCE (124 S MAIN ST, MAQUOKETA, IA)

Commissioned by art collector and dealer Peggy Guggenheim for the entry to her New York City apartment in 1943, Mural by Jackson Pollock (American, 1912–56) is considered one of the iconic paintings of the twentieth century. Now in the collection of the University of Iowa Museum of Art, it represents a transitional moment in Pollock’s career, as he moved toward an experimental application of paint.

Dale Fisher is the education curator at the University of Iowa Museum of Art. Fisher received a Bachelor of Science in Art Education, with K-12 Life Certification, and a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in painting, from the University of Missouri-Columbia. After teaching in public schools for six years, Fisher attended Arizona State University as a candidate in the Master of Fine Arts program in ceramics.

Free and open to the public. MAE is located at 124 S Main St in Maquoketa, IA. For more information, call them at 563-652-9925 or visit Maquoketa-Art.org.

CITY LIFE DEADLINE

FRIDAY, APRIL 1

The City of Dubuque is ready to welcome 25 Dubuque residents for the next session of City Life, a free "citizen academy" program designed to provide residents a hands-on connection with their local government. Applications to participate are due Friday, April 1.

City Life was developed in 2013 by the City of Dubuque Human Rights Department to offer residents the opportunity to interact with City staff, discover department services, participate in tours of City facilities, and learn about different opportunities to be involved with the city. The City Life program consists of one session per week for six weeks, with each session held on Thursday evenings from 6-9 p.m. The next session runs April 7 through May 12. The Human Rights Department will strive to make accommodations around transportation, childcare, and/or language.

For more information and to apply for City Life, visit CityOfDubuque.org/citylife, contact Community Engagement Coordinator Nikola Pavelić at 563-589-4182 or npavelic@cityofdubuque.org, or stop by the Human Rights Department office at 1300 Main St. in Dubuque. ■

Art on the River Call for Artists Submission Deadline

The City of Dubuque is soliciting submissions from artists for the 2016–2017 Art on the River public art program displaying works of sculpture throughout the Port of Dubuque. About 10–12 works will be selected to be displayed from June 2016, to June 2017. Applications are free and are due by midnight CST on Sunday, March 27. A panel of three credentialed jurors reviews the artist applications and makes a recommendation to the Arts and Cultural Affairs Advisory Commission and the City Council. The exhibit is free, can be viewed sunrise to sunset year-round, and is accessible. cityofdubuque.org/artontheriver; 563-690-6059.

MONDAY, MARCH 28

Dubuque Area Writers Guild Anthology Extended Submission Deadline

In conjunction with the 39th annual DubuqueFest Fine Arts Festival (May 20–22), the Dubuque Area Writers Guild (DAWG) is excited to announce that it will be publishing the 38th edition of its Gallery book project. This year's publication, “Shapes,” will be an open-genre anthology showcasing the art and writing of Dubuquers and those with ties to the Dubuque area. Submitters are asked to consider all senses and definitions of the theme: some examples include physical shape, emotional shape, the shape of a life or journey, or how one is shaped by one's environment or experiences. Electronic submissions are strongly preferred, and should be sent to dubuqueareawritersguild@gmail.com. Please include the words “2016 Gallery submission” in the subject line. For submission details and more information, contact Gwen Beatty, Danielle Phillips or Heidi Zull at dubuqueareawritersguild@gmail.com.

DUBUQUE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA PRESENTS

GISELLE

SATURDAY, APRIL 2 @ 7:30 PM

SUNDAY, APRIL 3 @ 2 PM

UNIVERSITY OF DUBUQUE HERITAGE CENTER (2255 BENNETT ST)

The Dubuque Symphony Orchestra (DSO) joins forces with the Heartland Ballet Company to present the fully staged production of the romantic ballet Giselle. Haunting and poetic, it tells the story of a peasant girl who falls in love with a prince then later dies of a broken heart after discovering her lover is betrothed to another. The Wilis, a group of supernatural women who dance men to death, summon Giselle from her grave and target her lover for death.

Marina O'Rourke, Artistic Director of the Heartland Ballet Company, is a second generation dancer, the daughter of Tatiana Bechenova. Her training began at the Academy of Ballet, the school founded by Tatiana. Marina also studied in Chicago, Kansas City and Minneapolis with Stone/Camryn, the Dukodovskys and Loyce Houlton. Marina was a scholarship student at the Oklahoma University School of Ballet where she graduated and received the Outstanding Student and Choreography awards. After graduating, Marina studied at the International School of Dance in Cannes, France, and she has completed three Teachers Courses with internationally renowned Master Teacher, David Howard. She has served as President of the Iowa Dance Council, been a consultant to the Iowa Arts Council and a teacher for Very Special Arts Iowa. She was on the drama department faculty at Clarke College and served many years as Artist-in-Residence for the Washington VPA program and the Roosevelt FAME choreographer.

To purchase individual tickets to this concert ($15-$78), call 563-585-SHOW, or online at dubuquesymphony.org. Discounted $6 student tickets will be available in the theater lobby one hour prior to each performance. ■

FREE SCREENING OF FOOD DOCUMENTARY FED UP

MONDAY, APRIL 4 @ 6:30 PM
MINDFRAME THEATERS (555 JFK RD)

This is the first generation of kids who will live shorter lives than their parents. Thirty years ago the U.S. Government issued its first ever dietary guidelines and with it one of the greatest health epidemics of our time ensued.

In her documentary feature debut, executive producer and narrator Katie Couric joins Laurie David (An Inconvenient Truth), Regina Scully (The Invisible War) and Stephanie Soechtig (Tapped) to explore why, despite media attention and government policies to combat childhood obesity, these current generations of kids will now live shorter lives than their parents.

Upending the conventional wisdom of why we gain weight and how to lose it, Fed Up unearths the dirty little secret the food industry doesn't want you to know. The truth is, only 30% of people suffering from diet-related diseases are actually obese; while 70% of us—even those of us who look thin and trim on the outside—are facing the same medical battles as the obese among us.

Following a group of children for more than two years, director Stephanie Soechtig achieves a profound intimacy with them as they document their uphill battles to follow the conventional wisdom, "diet and exercise", in order to live healthier, fuller lives. They are undertaking a mission impossible.

The event is hosted by Kristina M. Castañeda, founder and holistic health coach at Embody Renegade Wellness.

"I'm showing Fed Up because in a confusing world of misinformation about food, it can feel overwhelming to know where to look and which sources to trust, and Fed Up delivers no-nonsense, clear-cut delivery of what's happening today with food and mood, physiological health and dis-ease, and human connectedness, with the slant of what we're doing to our children.

"I hope to locally initiate a dialogue, construct a common, shared language, and hopefully, ignite a movement that helps us gain gravity with applicable tools to revolutionize what happens in your backyard, in your home, in your kitchen, and in the bodies, minds, and spirits of your children." ■

HARLEM GLOBETROTTERS

THE CLARKE UNIVERSITY ENVIRONMENTAL FILM SERIES

THURSDAY, APRIL 7 @ 7 PM
CLARKE UNIVERSITY JANSEN MUSIC HALL (1550 CLARKE DR)

In this session, finalists in the environmental film contest will be shown. Directors from around the world competed in both filmmaking and the strength of the environmental message of the film.

Six submissions will be shown, for an approximately 90-minute program. Winning the $200 prize for top film was Beneath Wallace's Line, by Nicholas and Cheryl Dean. This film beautifully highlights the underwater treasures of the "coral triangle" in Indonesia, which are increasingly subjected to conservation threats.

Other films that will be shown are:
Nature Needs You, Mark Pearce. While industrial resource developments continue to put at risk our natural significance, people in Australia are standing their ground for nature.
No Jile, Carolina Davila. In Venezuela, "No Jile" translates roughly to "Don't mess it up." This film is a moving portrait of an old man forced to leave his home as a climate refugee.

Sharing the Secrets Drew Perlmutter. Described as "A film millions of years in the making," this film shows the special ecosystems and conservation issues of caves.

Message in a Bottle Daniel Schmidt. Photographer James Balog from the film "Chasing Ice" (shown as part of the film series) embarks on a new quest—understanding climate change.

Refugees Olga Guse. Global warming, environmental disasters and wars make all the inhabitants of earth potential refugees.

The Environmental Film Series is open to the public. Attendees will have the opportunity to vote for a "people's choice award."

LIVE AT HERITAGE CENTER PERFORMING ARTS SERIES

SFJAZZ COLLECTIVE

THE MUSIC OF MICHAEL JACKSON AND OTHER ORIGINAL COMPOSITIONS

SATURDAY, APRIL 9 @ 7:30 PM

UNIVERSITY OF DUBUQUE HERITAGE CENTER (2255 BENNETT ST)

San Francisco's all-star ensemble is comprised of eight of the finest performer/composers that work in jazz today: Miguel Zenón, David Sánchez, Avishai Cohen, Robin Eubanks, Warren Wolf, Edward Simon, Matt Penman, and Obed Calvaire. The Collective performs home season concerts at the SFJAZZ Center and a national tour, with stops in some of the world's most prominent clubs and concert halls. The Collective's studio album, Wonder: The Songs of Stevie Wonder, won Outstanding Jazz Album at the 45th Annual NAACP Image Awards in 2014.

For this season, SFJAZZ Collective focuses on the music of the undisputed King of Pop, Michael Jackson, with arrangements of "Smooth Criminal," "Thriller," and "Don't Stop 'Til You Get Enough," among others as well as new pieces by each Collective member. Hailing from Puerto Rico, New York, Venezuela, Philadelphia, New Zealand, and Israel, the Collective's multi-cultural lineup mirrors the explosion of jazz talent around the globe.

The performance will be preceded by a free one-hour masterclass, open to public observation, at 3:30 p.m. as well as a 30-minute pre-show lecture presented by a member of SFJAZZ at 6:30 p.m. in Babka Theatre. A reception will also be held from 6 to 7:30 p.m. in the Bisignano Art Gallery in conjunction with the In My Backyard: Snapshot of UD Students exhibit.

Tickets can be purchased at the Farber Box Office Monday through Friday 10 a.m.-5:30 p.m.; by phone at 563-585-SHOW; or online at DBQ.edu/heritagecenter. ■

THE COMEDY PARTY

FEATURING PAULY SHORE, HARLAND WILLIAMS, TOM GREEN AND BOBBY LEE

SATURDAY, APRIL 9 @ 8 PM

FIVE FLAGS CENTER (405 MAIN ST)

From numerous motion picture and television roles to standup specials, a documentary, and two podcasts, Pauly Shore, Harland Williams, Tom Green and Bobby Lee have collectively covered the full spectrum of comedy, building a loyal fan base for years.

Pauly Shore tasted super-stardom in 1990 when his precedent-setting MTV show Totally Pauly hit the airwaves to major fan approval. Movie stardom followed with Encino Man, In the Army Now, and Bio Dome.

Harland Williams is known internationally for his hilarious movie roles and outlandish stand up and sketch comedy routines including his unforgettable appearances in Dumb and Dumber, Something about Mary, Half Baked, and more.

You know Tom Green from his anything-goes run as the funniest, most unpredictable personality on MTV, and his unforgettable, deliciously loony roles in uproarious film comedies including Road Trip and Freddy Got Fingered.

Bobby Lee is best known from his numerous years as a cast member on Mad TV and as regular guest on E!'s Chelsea Lately. You may also know him from NBC's Animal Practice as well as The Dictator, Pineapple Express and Harold & Kumar Go to White Castle.

Tickets are $35 and are available now at the Five Flags Center box office, 4th and Locust, downtown Dubuque, by phone at 563-589-4254 or online at ticketmaster.com. ■

APRIL 11-16

DOWNTOWN DUBUQUE

In its tenth year, Dubuque Main Street (DMS), in collaboration with many local businesses and organizations, will celebrate Architecture Days. Inspired by National Architecture Week, the mission of Architecture Days is to heighten the recognition of architecture as an art form and to explore the rich architectural landscape of Dubuque through programming for all ages. Architecture Days offers the public the opportunity to learn more about architecture and Dubuque's historic fabric, celebrating our sense of place, our unique treasures, and the city's growth through commitment to architectural re-use and community. For more information, visit DowntownDubuque.org or call Dubuque Main Street at 563-588-4400. ■

COMING TO THEATERS

Batman V Superman: Dawn of Justice (PG-13)

FRIDAY, MARCH 25

Fearing Superman's actions are left unchecked, Batman takes on Superman while the world decides what kind of a hero it really needs. Meanwhile, Doomsday is created by Lex Luthor. Can the heroes to set aside their differences along with Wonder Woman to stop Lex Luthor and Doomsday from destroying Metropolis?

My Big Fat Greek Wedding 2 (PG-13)

FRIDAY, MARCH 25

The follow-up to the highest-grossing romantic comedy of all time. Written by Academy Award (R) nominee Nia Vardalos, who stars alongside the entire returning cast of favorites, the film reveals a Portokalos family secret that will bring the beloved characters back together for an even bigger and Grecker wedding.

Get a Job (R)

FRIDAY, MARCH 25

Miles Teller, Anna Kendrick, and Bryan Cranston star in this wickedly funny comedy about making it in the real world.

Amityville: The Awakening (R)

FRIDAY, APRIL 1

Belle and her family move into a new house, but when strange phenomena begin to occur, Belle begins to suspect her Mother isn't telling her everything and soon realizes they just moved into the infamous Amityville house.

Hardcore Henry (R)

FRIDAY, APRIL 8

You remember nothing. Mainly because you've just been brought back from the dead by your wife. She tells you that your name is Henry. Five minutes later, you are being shot at, your wife has been kidnapped, and you should probably go get her back.

MOVIE BUZZ

One Direction heartthrob, Harry Styles has been offered a part in Christopher Nolan's Dunkirk. Tom Hardy, Kenneth Branagh, and recent Oscar winner Mark Rylance are already attached to star in the historical film, which covers the miraculous WWII evacuation of Allied troops trapped on the beaches of Dunkirk, France. It's said Styles would not have a lead role.

You've probably heard by now that Harrison Ford will once again take on the role of Indiana Jones with a July 19, 2019 release when he'll be 77. Franchise veterans Kathleen Kennedy and Frank Marshall will produce, and Steven Spielberg will direct. David Koepp, who penned The Kingdom of the Crystal Skull will take another stab at it. This time though, without George Lucas' dumb ideas getting in the way.

According to the Garry Marshall, Anne Hathaway is, for some reason, willing to do a Princess Diaries 3 after she gives birth to the child she's currently gestating.

Warner Bros. is trying once again to do a Cannonball Run reboot, this time with Get Hard writer-director Etan Cohen to write and direct. As long as they still do the outtakes in the credits, I'm in.

Will Forte has signed on to star in A Futile and Stupid Gesture, a biopic of National Lampoon co-founder Doug Kenney, who wrote such films as Animal House and Caddyshack and died at 33. Wet Hot American Summer director David Wain is heading the film, adapted from the 2006 book of the same name.

Hoping to get some of that Deadpool money, Warner Bros. has decided they too will make a movie about a comic book villain-turned-antihero, hiring Pan and Wonder Woman screenwriter Jason Fuchs to write a script focusing on DC Comics' Lobo, over-the-top, scathing, satirical response to the swelling popularity of violent, "badass" superheroes.

Tom Hanks will play a salesman trying to sell a holographic teleconferencing system to a Saudi king in the upcoming A Hologram for the King based on the Dave Eggers novel. ■

WORK OF ART

ESSENTIAL SKILLS FOR ARTISTS AND CREATIVE PROFESSIONALS WORKSHOP SERIES

MARCH 25–26 AND APRIL 22–23

GALLERY C (900 JACKSON ST #113)

Studio Works, in partnership with the Dubuque Area Arts Collective, is pleased to announce Work Of Art. Developed by Springboard for the Arts, based in St. Paul, MN, Work of Art is a set of six professional development and entrepreneurship workshops focusing on key topics for artists practicing in all disciplines—visual, performing and literary arts. Artists can participate in the full series or only those workshops that best suit their current needs. This series has been taught at arts organizations, libraries and colleges in over 80 communities in the Upper Midwest and has proven results. Results that mean a positive financial impact to the artists as well as the community.

The program will take place at Gallery C, located in the Schmid Innovation Center. All materials and refreshments are provided. Workshops are open to artists in all stages of career. Studio Works and Dubuque Area Arts Collective are able to offer these workshops at a very low cost thanks to the generous support of McGraw-Hill Education.

Portfolio Kit is on Friday, March 25; Marketing and Social Media Basics are on Saturday, March 26; Pricing is on Friday, April 22; and Funding and Business Plan Essentials are on Saturday, April 23.

Workshops are only $100 for all six sessions and only $50 for students (other rates available). Classes are anticipated to fill quickly, so register today to save your spot at dbqstudioworks.org/classes. ■

FIRST FRIDAYS AT DUMA

FRIDAY, APRIL 1 @ 5–9 PM

DUBUQUE MUSEUM OF ART (701 LOCUST ST)

Happening the first Friday of every month, DUMA stays open late and offers special programming in conjunction with other community arts events. Experience the creative spirit of our community, along with great friends, stylish appetizers and drinks, and great art. Locavores. Sample local foods and beverages and launch of Dubuque Community Supported Art. Also, this month they are partnering with the Carnegie Stout Library for their Art @ Your Library opening, encouraging people to go down to the library before or after they stop at the Museum. Admission is $10 or sign up for a membership and come to all of the First Fridays for free for the next year!

Follow DUMA (DubuqueArt) on Facebook, Twitter (#DUMAFirstFridays), and Instagram for updates and to share your ideas for future First Fridays. The series is sponsored by Richardson Motors with 365ink Magazine as the media partner. Visit DBQart.com or call 563-557-1851 for more information. ■

WORK BY AMY FULLER

ART @ YOUR LIBRARY®

FEATURING AMY FULLER, LYNDA ANTHONY AND JOAN OVERHOUSE

SHOW: FRIDAY, APRIL 1–FRIDAY, MAY 20

RECEPTION: FRIDAY, APRIL 1 @ 5:30–7:30 PM

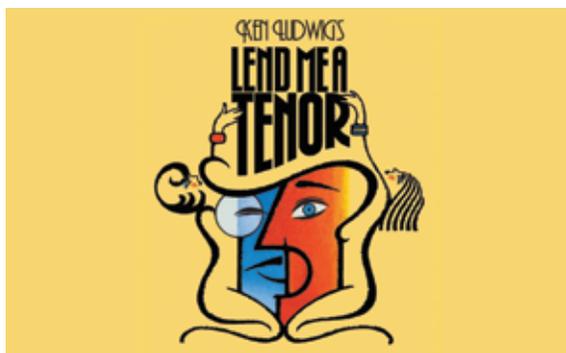

CARNEGIE-STOUT PUBLIC LIBRARY ROTUNDA (360 W 11TH ST)

Amy Fuller's paintings are reflective of her wanderlust and fascination with different cultures. Her pen and ink work is more narrative-based, often infused with a dark sense of humor sometimes portraying how she feels about humanity.

Lyndal Anthony's woodturning ornamental art reflects the beauty of wood and as it is created on a lathe. Woodturning originated around 1300 BC and maintains its popularity with artists today.

Joan Overhouse works in collaboration with Anthony as a pyrographer, an artist who decorates wood with burn marks. The ornamental art is enhanced by the rich grain of the piece.

Artists will be on hand during the reception to meet people and discuss their works. The event is open to the public, and admission is free. For more information visit dubuque.lib.ia.us or call the library at 563-589-4225. ■

KEN LUDWIG'S LEND ME A TENOR

APRIL 1–2 AND 8–9 @ 7:30 PM

APRIL 3 @ 2 PM

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (135 W 8TH ST)

Set in 1934 this hysterical farce follows The Cleveland Grand Opera Company as it is primed to welcome world famous, Tito Morelli, Il Stupendo, the greatest tenor of his generation. Through a hilarious series of mishaps, the tenor is given a double dose of tranquilizers, passes out and is presumed dead. Mayhem ensues as the company disguises the General Manager's assistant Max as Il Stupendo. A sensation on Broadway and in London's West End, this madcap, screwball comedy is guaranteed to leave audiences teary-eyed with laughter.

Tickets are $18 for adults and $12 for those younger than 18. Tickets can be purchased at the Grand Opera House box office Mon–Fri Noon–4 p.m., by calling 563-588-1305, or by visiting TheGrandOperaHouse.com. ■

IN MY BACKYARD: SNAPSHOT OF UD STUDENTS

SHOW: MONDAY, APRIL 4–FRIDAY, APRIL 15

RECEPTION: SATURDAY, APRIL 9 @ 6–7:30 PM

UNIVERSITY OF DUBUQUE HERITAGE CENTER (2255 BENNETT ST)

This exhibit, organized by Student Life and the Bisignano Art Gallery, is as much a sociological survey as an art show. While the University of Dubuque nestles neatly on the Mississippi River at the confluence of Iowa, Wisconsin, and Illinois, the student body is anything but reflective of Midwestern homogeneity. UD is diverse, and one way to view this diversity is, literally, through our ‘backyards’. This show will feature videos, interviews, and pictures of 18 students’ backyards. Get to know the students in this rather unique way. ■

DUBUQUE CITYWIDE ALL-SCHOOL HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT ART EXHIBITION

SHOW: FRIDAY, APRIL 1–SUNDAY, APRIL 17

RECEPTION: THURSDAY, APRIL 7 @ 5–6:30 PM

DUBUQUE MUSEUM OF ART (701 LOCUST ST)

The Dubuque Citywide All-School Student Art Exhibition is part of an annual collaboration with Dubuque Community and Holy Family Schools. This year’s two-part exhibition features artworks by students K–8 on view now through March 31. An exhibition of artworks by high school students will be on view April 1–17. The exhibition gives young artists and their families an opportunity to see their artworks hung in the same building as timeless works by Grant Wood, Edward S. Curtis and many others.

Admission is free during March and April for educators, students and family members visiting the exhibitions. The receptions are free and open to the public. For more information, visit DBQart.com or call the museum at 563-557-1851. ■

SECOND ANNUAL YOUTH ARTS FESTIVAL

SUNDAY, APRIL 17 @ 10 AM–4 PM

CHESTNUT MOUNTAIN RESORT (3577 SOUTH BLANDING, HANOVER, IL)

The Galena Center for the Arts, in collaboration with the Galena ARC, is hosting the second annual Youth Arts Festival. The purpose of this one-day event is to provide a forum for Jo Daviess County youth to come together to exhibit and perform their art. The festival will showcase visual arts, industrial art, drama, speech, choral, and instrumental performances from the regular school curriculum of preschool through high school students.

The goal of the Youth Arts Festival is to celebrate the spark of creativity our local arts educators inspire and nurture in our children, and to bring awareness to our county about the power of arts education.

To find out more about the Youth Arts Festival, visit GalenaCenterForTheArts.com/youth-arts-festival and the Youth Arts Festival Facebook page. ■

COMMUNITY SUPPORTED ART

PURCHASE @ DUBUQUE AREA ARTS COLLECTIVE (902 MAIN ST) THROUGH SUNDAY, APRIL 17

PURCHASE @ DUBUQUE MUSEUM OF ART (701 LOCUST ST) THROUGH JULY

Over the last 20 years, Community Supported Agriculture has become a popular way for consumers to buy seasonal food directly from local farms. With the same “buy local” spirit in mind, Dubuque Community Supported Art (CSA) is a similar endeavor to support local art, artists and collectors. This project is modeled on Community Supported Art in Minnesota, created by mnartists.org and Springboard for the Arts.

The inaugural CSA season features musician Robert Bucko Jr from Dubuque, sculptor Keva Fawkes from Iowa City, and painter Mary Swanson from Cedar Rapids. Each artist will create 25 “shares”. Featured work can consist of a limited edition of a vinyl 7” screen printed music record, multimedia storytelling paintings, unique vernacular architectural inspired planters, and more. In addition to the three featured artists works, there will be a “bumper crop” of additional artwork and arts opportunities included.

You can purchase a share of locally and regionally produced artwork for only $200 for one “farm box” now at the Dubuque Museum of Art or Dubuque Area Arts Collective (DAAC). Your box will be available at a pick-up event in August at DAAC.

CSA Share member benefits include multiple works of art from local emerging and mid-career artists at a fantastic value! Additionally, CSA Members have the opportunity to develop relationships with the local artists and art community, discover new artists, explore a variety of disciplines and support artists’ careers and a vibrant community.

For more information, call 563-599-9486 or visit DAArtsCollective.com/CSA. ■

Kids' Summer Fun

THERE'S A LOT TO GET THROUGH SO LET'S GET TO IT. IF YOU PLAN THIS RIGHT, YOU WON'T HAVE TO DEAL WITH NOISY KIDS FOR MORE THAN A FEW HOURS ALL SUMMER LONG.

CITY OF DUBUQUE LEISURE SERVICES

CITYOFDUBUQUE.ORG/RECREATION

For all of the amazing programs available to area youth, it's hard to hold a candle to the offerings presented by the City of Dubuque's Leisure Services Department. They offer a staggering range of creative classes, FREE neighborhood programs, youth sports, swim lessons, golf instruction, NEW Bee Branch nature programs and other programs available to Dubuque families as the cornerstone of youth activity in our community. Kids recreation classes from Leisure services cover the gamut and then the gamut beyond that. In fact, we counted more than 100 different titles for classes and activities offered. The selection is simply stunning. There is truly something for everyone through offerings from a great variety of experienced instructors and though partnerships with groups like ISU Extension, Montessori School, Dubuque County Conservation and many more.

There's way more for kids to do this summer than we have room for here, but you can get the full list in the new Summer Leisure Services Brochure, available April 1 at cityofdubuque.org/recreation or in print form at area venues like the Leisure Services Office, Carnegie- Stout Public Library, and City Hall. At 60+ pages, it's more of a guidebook to summer fun than a brochure. It's also got information about summer reading programs at the library, youth programs at the Multicultural Family Center, as well as events at the Five Flags Center. For up to date information on programs, events, and services you can also "like" their facebook page at City of Dubuque Leisure Services or sign up for the Notify Me alerts through the cities website.

The City also provides kids an opportunity to have fun and get some outdoor exercise at our parks and two municipal pools. While it might not seem like pool weather just yet, Flora and Sutton Pools open on Saturday, May 28 for the season. Both venues have wonderful water related amenities like slides and fountains and a host of pool sizes and admission under 18 is $2 (Free under 4), which is some pretty cheap entertainment.

May 21st is National Kids to Parks Day. On this day, admission to Eagle Point Park will be free. There will also be a shuttle bus running from the new Intermodal Facility to Eagle Point Park 10 a.m.-2 p.m. There will be live entertainment at the Eagle Point Bandshell from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. What a great opportunity to bring the family up to our premiere park for a picnic and some music.

Not sure how to get the kids to and from the pool, Allison-Henderson or the library, for that matter? The City's Jule Transit System offers free bus transportation to City of Dubuque Recreation Division and Carnegie-Stout Public Library activities. The Free Way to Fun City program allows season swim pass tag holders (purchased at the Leisure Services Department) a free bus ride when traveling directly to or from Flora and Sutton Pools. Additionally, children who register for any Recreation Division or Library program may request a Free Way to Fun City identification card which allows children to ride The Jule bus to the program site at no cost. Identification cards will be mailed upon completed registration. For additional information, contact The Jule, or call at 563.589.4196.

Special population activities are also offered but not limited to mentally and physically disabled individuals. Registration is requested one week prior to a program's starting date—call the office at 563-589-4263. The SP I playground program offers a variety of activities for girls and boys ages 6 through 14 and toilet trained, for inclusion into the regularly scheduled playground program at Flora Park. Additional staff will be available to assist with successful participation.

NOW ENROLLING

FROGWARTS SCHOOL OF WIZARDRY

JULY 10-16 & JULY 17-23

CAMP LITTLE CLOUD (EPWORTH, IA)

Frogwarts is a role-play creativity camp originally inspired by J.K. Rowling's Harry Potter series. Primarily a literacy and character development curriculum, the camp invites all participants (staff included!) to play in-role, sustaining a fantasy character for an entire week. Frogwarts enriches the lives of youth by providing a memorable experience which cultivates the creative, emotional, and imaginative intelligences in the campers.

Campers are split into three houses of mixed ages on the first day during "sorting" and attend classes (such as Transfiguration, Defense Against Darkness, Potions, Gravity Defiance and more) with groups divided by age.

One of the most important aspects of the camp experience is the close relationships developed. But the most magical aspect of Frogwarts—and what sets it apart from normal summer camps—is the development of a story, dramatized in real-time by campers and staff and guest artists. Students use their critical thinking, imagination, and role-play skills to act along with the drama, which is designed to guide students through a process of questioning good versus evil, right versus wrong, to the triumph of compassion, creativity, courage, justice, and fun!

The camp costs $520 for one week or $940 for two weeks. Additional fees for optional t-shirt and/or weekend stay-over. Sign up by April 1 to receive a $25 discount! Register today at Frogwarts.org or call 563-542-5452. ■

JULIEN DUBUQUE INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL

APRIL 21-24
VARIOUS LOCATIONS IN DUBUQUE

Film lovers, mark your calendars! The Julien Dubuque International Film Festival (JDIFF) returns with a big weekend full of independent film screenings, panel discussions and special events, Thursday, April 21 through Sunday, April 24. Now in its sixth year, the Film Festival will host film screenings and events in a variety of landmark Dubuque locations.

Leading up to the festival, JDIFF will host a Kick-Off event, Tuesday, April 12 (location to be announced) where guests can learn more about this year's lineup of films and special guests and view trailers for some of the festival's official selections and award nominees.

Bringing filmmakers and storytellers together for a celebration of independent film, JDIFF will feature a variety of documentaries, features and shorts over the four-day weekend festival with opportunities for film fans and aspiring filmmakers to meet the directors, producers, writers, and other industry professionals who turn ideas into movie magic.

The best of those filmmakers will be recognized for their art at the festival through nominations in a variety of categories with the top picks sharing over $40,000 in cash prizes. JDIFF will feature awards in the categories of Best Documentary ($10,000), Best Feature ($10,000), Excellence in Cinematography ($6,500), World Premiere Special Jury ($5,000), Best Short 3-20 minutes ($3,500), Best Short 21-29 minutes ($3,500), Masters Award in Student Film ($1,000), and Audience Choice ($1,000).

The Film Festival will also host a series of special events throughout the weekend, including an Opening Night celebration at the Mississippi Moon Bar on Thursday, April 21; the ever-popular Silent Film Showcase at the Grand Opera House on Friday, April 22; an Awards Gala & After-Party at the Five Flags Center on Saturday, April 23, and Closing Ceremonies on Sunday, April 24.

Throughout the four-day weekend, a variety of Dubuque venues will host film festival screenings, including the Dubuque Museum of Art, the Five Flags Civic Center, the Grand Opera House, the Holiday Inn, Hotel Julien Dubuque, the National Mississippi River Museum & Aquarium, Mindframe Theaters, and The Venue.

With a selection of great films, featured events, and cash prizes at the annual festival, the Julien Dubuque International Film Festival has quickly attracted the attention of the national and international film community. In 2013, only the third year for the festival, JDIFF was voted as one of the Top 25 Coolest Film Festivals in the World by MovieMaker Magazine. The recognition has helped the festival to draw some of the best independent films from around the world with a number of top films earning wider distribution, reaching an even larger audience.

Tickets for the Julien Dubuque International Film Festival can be purchased for individual film screenings ($8 or $5 for students) and special events ($10-$35, depending on the event), or an All-Access Pass for the entire weekend for $250. Tickets can be purchased in advance through JDIFF at JulienFilmFest.com or the weekend of the festival at the JDIFF Box Office in Hotel Julien Dubuque. ■

Dusty Heart

9 PM @ THE SMOKESTACK (62 EAST 7TH ST)
COVER: $5
Rich vocal harmonies merge with intimate layers of guitar, fiddle and banjo to define the lush sound of the recently formed duo, Dusty Heart. Barbara Jean and Molly Dean are songwriters recognized in their own right for their poetic lyrics and distinct vocal styles that fuse to create a powerful and haunting sound. The pair met in the bustling Minneapolis music scene and became fast friends as well as fans and supporters of one another's work. The two decided to join forces crafting a sound that bridges together the diverse musical worlds of roots, indie, and folk. dustyheartmusic.com.

SATURDAY, MARCH 26

Teneia

9 PM @ THE SMOKESTACK (62 EAST 7TH ST)
COVER: $5
Teneia, original folk/soul duo blends Southern gospel, Americana, blues, and pop, showcasing Mississippi roots, with their trademark stripped-down, hard-hitting sound. Teneia Sanders-Eichelberger and Ben Eichelberger have been on the road since 2015, when they transitioned to a life on the road with one goal: spread a message of love and equality through great music. Best of Phoenix's Best Female Vocalist 2015, teneia.com.

Dead Horses, Mac Dralle, Digital Leather

10 PM @ THE LIFT (180 MAIN ST)
Barrington, IL-based Mac Dralle is a singer-songwriter with a jazz guitar background who plays a variety of music from funk to folk. In the summer of 2014, a close family friend was diagnosed with ALS and Mac decided to throw a yearly event to benefit the ALS Association. Mac decided to donate 20% of his tour's proceeds to ALS, and he has continued fighting for this cause multiple times a year. Dead Horses front woman Sarah Vos' was raised on bible hymns by her preacher father. The Milwaukee-based Americana trio has crafted a timeless sound, informed as much by modern folk as it is by the classics. Shawn Foree of Digital Leather collaborated with long time live bandmates as well as others to create a truly amazing record. We could go on to talk about how places like Vice and CMJ had wonderful things to say about this record but we would rather you just listen.

AUSTRALIA'S THUNDER FROM DOWN UNDER

FRIDAY, MARCH 25 @ 7:30 & 10 PM

The internationally-acclaimed Australian male revue show calls the nonstop, 90-minute, sensual journey a "World Fantasy" and its charismatic troupe helps fantasy become reality in the blink of an eye. The celebrated show debuted in 1991, and since then, nearly seven million people have watched Thunder from Down Under performances live. The group has been featured on many television shows including NBC's Today, ABC's The View, and more. Featuring dynamic dance routines and a range of music hits from the 1970s until today, the show is set to entertain and thrill audience members.

MARSHALL TUCKER BAND

FRIDAY, APRIL 8 @ 8 PM

In the early fall of 1973 The Marshall Tucker Band was still a young and hungry group out to prove themselves every time they hit the stage. The band's recent release of Live! From Englishtown is a time capsule from that period. "We were a bunch of young guys who didn't know any boundaries" says founding member and longtime lead singer Doug Gray. As it turned out, the collective talents of The Marshall Tucker Band took them very far indeed.

BRANDON GIBBS FEATURING JOEL KOSCHE OF COLLECTIVE SOUL

FRIDAY, APRIL 15 @ 8 PM

In June 2014, Brandon joined forces with Rikki Rockett (Poison), Tracii Guns (L.A. Guns), and Eric Brittingham (Cinderella) to form Devil City Angels. They released their self-titled record in September of 2015 and it received rave reviews. The best is yet to come in 2016 as Brandon continues to unleash his talent.

LITA FORD

SUNDAY, APRIL 17 @ 7 PM

The British-born, American-raised Ford was lead guitarist for The Runaways, one of the first female rock groups to break down barriers during the punk era as well as the male-dominated world of rock music in the 1970s. Following The Runaways' breakup in the late '70s, Ford set out to launch her solo career. In 1988, Ford released her most commercially-successful album, the self-produced Lita. The album featured numerous hits including "Kiss Me Deadly," "Back to the Cave," "Close My Eyes Forever," and "Falling In and Out of Love."

Evergreen

10 PM @ THE LIFT (180 MAIN ST)
 Since their October 2010 founding in Milwaukee, WI, Evergreen has been on a journey of improvisation and instinct. Their music pushes the boundaries of traditional styles by blending psychedelic rock, jazz, funk, country and folk into a soulful and unpredictable groove. Their live show is an integral part of their music, serving as a remarkable display of their musical expression and original material.

SUNDAY, APRIL 3

Lucero Young Outlaw's Tour with John Moreland

8 PM @ CODFISH HOLLOW BARN
 (5013 288TH AVE, MAQUOKETA, IA)
 TICKETS: $25 ADV/$35 DOOR
 Lucero is an American country-punk rock band based in Memphis, Tennessee, United States. Lucero's sound has been described as a "synthesis of soul, rock, and country [that] is distinctly Memphisian. With 11 albums under their belt and a couple hundred shows a year, these guys are tenured and tight on stage. Big ol' Texas boy, John Moreland opens with a memorable acoustic set. Rachel Maddow said of Moreland "If the American music business made any sense, guys like John Moreland would be household names." CodfishHollowBarnstormers.com.

SATURDAY, APRIL 9

Child Bite, The New Trust, Sludgeburner, tba (All Ages Show)

5 PM @ THE VENUE (285 MAIN ST)
 The Detroit-based Child Bite is a strange amalgam of contradictory elements coming from Danny Sperry's hectic drumming, Sean Clancy's fuzzed-out bass, Zach Norton's fragmented guitar lines, and Shawn Knight's guitar, keyboards, and signature vocal warble. Child Bite's blend of sophisticated noise-pop has enough time changes and feedback layering to please hipsters and experimental rock enthusiasts alike, recalling bands like Brainiac, early Deerhoof, and Pere Ubu. The New Trust is a co-ed Bay Area punk band who has been bashing out unique, melody-driven love songs, though "love song" might be a misnomer since both lyrically and musically they have more in common with bands like Shellac, Neurosis, or Party of Helicopters than other sappy indie-rock bands pouring their hearts out. Over the span of ten years and five albums The New Trust has managed to tour with bands as diverse as Loma Prieta and Ampere to These Arms Are Snakes, Smoking Popes and Minus the Bear.

Switchback

8 PM @ THE SMOKESTACK (62 EAST 7TH ST)
 COVER: $10
 Awarding-winning singer/songwriting duo Switchback: for over two decades, the musical partnership of Brian FitzGerald and Martin McCormack, known as Switchback, has been entertaining audiences around the world. The duo has shared the stage with such notable Celtic musicians as Cherish the Ladies, Gaelic Storm, Liz Carroll, and John Williams. Their amazing blend of American roots and Celtic soul is sure to have everyone feeling the luck of the Irish. waygoodmusic.com.

THE BADLANDS: 'POST-APOCALYPTIC WARRIORS' OF ROCK

BY CLETE CAMPBELL

Naturally, they were born in the Badlands.

Six talented musicians walked into a studio one day and soon, like mad rock scientists channeling Eddie Van Halen, Jim Hendrix and Bruce Springsteen, developed the formula for killer rock and roll. Mix Ron "The Metal Cowboy" Keel with drum legend, Jeff "The Rev" Koller, savant guitarists David "DC" Cothorn and Steve "Doc" Purcell, bass guitar groove wizard Geno "El Diablo" Arce and melodic keyboardist Scott "Dakota" Schmitt and you get the Badlands House Band, one of the Midwest's most electric, entertaining and fastest-rising rock bands.

And Badlands plans on cranking the amps to 11 when they rock Mystique Casino and Resort's Cabaret Room Saturday, April 2 at 8 p.m. The group, produced by the creator of the famed 1980s cover band Hairball, is the official house band of Badlands Pawn. Badlands Pawn is a Disneyland of a pawn shop based in Sioux Falls, South Dakota that features the Midwest's largest pawn shop, an FM radio station, a shooting range, a tattoo shop, a deli, and for good measure, a speedway.

"Badlands Entertainment Group is proud to put the spotlight on killer musicians who have earned the opportunity to play for the Badlands House Band," said Chuck Brennan, founder and creator of Badlands Pawn, Gold & Jewelry and Badlands Entertainment Group. "This band is going to conquer the Midwest and beyond."

If you love outlaw, old-school rock, this is your band. It's no coincidence the Badlands House Band's mantra is "Guns, Gold & Rock & Roll." The band sees itself as "post-apocalyptic warriors" of rock's golden age.

"They call us American Rock 'N' Roll Cowboys," said Keel, who fronted the 1980s hair metal band Keel. "It starts with wild guitars from 'DC' Cothorn, who is a hard rocker with a metal edge, and Doc Purcell, who tears it up with a little twang. Then we mix in the powerhouse rhythm of 'The Rev' on drums and 'El Diablo' on bass, top it off with Dakota Scott rocking the piano, and put 'The Metal Cowboy' out front on lead vocals, and you got what we call Pure Badlands Rock!"

Talking about launching like a rocket. In just over a year, Badlands has toured the Midwest with the legendary Hairball from the Badlands to Iowa, opened for and played with some of the biggest names in rock and drawn rave reviews from some of the industry's icons. The legendary Paul Stanley of KISS calls the band "world class" and platinum-selling Slaughter front man Marc Slaughter describes Badlands as "top flight."

The Badlands House Band's debut single, "Ghost Riders In The Sky," is the perfect signature track for the band's adrenalized, retro, rowdy sound (which fans can see up close at BadlandsPawn.com). Their sound is vintage American rock metal with a hint of country. Fans can expect Badlands to put a stunning take on such rock classics as "Flirtin' With Disaster," "American Pie" "Born In The USA" and a powerful tribute to the USA called "The American Medley."

And Badlands has no plans on plateauing. "It has been one hell of a ride," Keel said. "The response we've gotten is beyond positive, and we're still just getting started." ■

RIVER ROCK KITCHEN AND TAP

BY RICH BELMONT

On December 30, 2015 a new restaurant opened in the Holiday Inn, downtown Dubuque. It has twelve craft beers from the tri-states area on tap, several wines on tap (I will explain later), and my foodie friends, the food is too good to be enjoyed just by the hotel guests.

It's called River Rock Kitchen and Tap because it is close to the Mississippi River where there is a lot of river rock. Some of that rock can be seen in the columns behind the bar!

The hotel and restaurant is owned by Dubuque Hotel Partners who are members of the Kinseth family. Kinseth Hospitality Companies headquartered in North Liberty, IA provides hotel management for over 75 hotels throughout the Midwest.

The restaurant is still new. In fact the grand opening was just held on March 15th. So the staff is still working on ironing out some of the kinks: like evaluating the current menu to include even more local food favorites.

This won't take long because the management is not only talented and experienced they have all been at this same hotel for a long time.

CHIPOTLE PEPPER PENNE

STEAK WITH BAKED POTATO AND MUSHROOMS

The General Manager is Norm Granback. He started his career over 50 years ago at the Stouffer Hotel in Oak Brook, IL. He has been General Manager of Holiday Inn Dubuque/Galena for 9 years. Dee McNamer is the Food and Beverage Director. She worked at Perkins Restaurant and Bakery for 13 years and was the General Manager for 8 of those years. She has been here now for 10 years. The Kitchen Manager, Tammy Hammel, started at the Dodge House when she was 16. She then worked in food service at Dubuque Greyhound Park. She started here 23 years ago when it was called the Clarion Hotel. (The Clarion Hotel converted to a Holiday Inn in 1994).

Ryan Dix is the guy you see all the time in the front of the house. He began his career in a Pizza Hut when he was only 15. Then he worked at Kentucky Fried Chicken and The Tollbridge in Dubuque. He is the Restaurant Service Manager and has been at this Holiday Inn for 10 years now.

There are 12 beers on tap. They are mostly from breweries in the Tri-State area. Available choices are changed frequently but here are a few of the current offerings:

- Pure Malt Cave, Potosi Brewing, Potosi, WI
- Annabelle's IPA, Galena Brewing, Galena, IL
- Hard Cider, Sutliff Cider Company, Lisbon, IA
- Schokoklade, Millstream, Amana, IA
- Blonde Fatale, Peace Tree, Knoxville, IA
- IPA, Exile Brewing, Des Moines, IA
- Sheer Madness, Kalona Brewery, Kalona, IA
- Gold Coin, Backpacket, Coralville, IA

There is also a nice selection of premium wines. And lucky me, some of my favorites are currently in stock including:

- Columbia Merlot, Columbia Valley, WA
- Cupcake Shiraz, Cupcake, Australia
- Park Farm Mississippi River Red, Bankston, IA
- Diamond Pinot Grigio, Frances Coppola, Sonoma, CA

There are even some I never had until now but I really like such as the Chateau Recougne (ray-coon) Bordeaux, France.

I say several of these wines are on tap because eight of them are stored in the wine dispensing system. It's called Wine Emotion and it is from Firenze, Italy. As wine is pumped out of the bottle it is replaced by food grade argon gas. This inert gas prevents the wine from exposure to air eliminating the possibility of oxidation. The system also maintains both red and white wines at proper temperatures.

Happy Hour is 3 pm to 6 pm Monday through Friday. All well drinks, beers and house wines are half price and the appetizer of the day is only $6.00.

River Rock Kitchen and Tap is a sports bar, too. There are 12 flat screen TV's so you can watch all your favorite teams. And some of the available snacks are the favorite foods of very popular school mascots. See if you can find:

- Cy - Cy the Cardinal, Iowa State University
- Herky - Herky the Hawk, University of Iowa
- Bucky - Bucky the Badger, University of Wisconsin, Madison (Fun Fact: Bucky's full name is Buckingham U. Badger)

The appetizers are designed to be eaten any time. You can order them as starters for lunch or dinner and as snacks.

Here is a sampling of some of the tastiest apps you will find in Dubuque!

Guacamole - You will have some fun when you order this one. Your server mashes ripe avocados with lime juice, garlic, onion, tomatoes and cilantro right at your table. Shown here is my guacamole being expertly prepared by Kelly.

Shrimp Ceviche (seh-VEE-chay) – This Latin American recipe calls for raw fish (or other seafood) to be marinated in either lemon or lime juice. The acid in the citrus juice effectively cooks the fish. Here in this restaurant, though, shrimp is blanched first to cook it. Then it is marinated in lime juice with avocado and cucumber.

Fresh Cut Home-Made Potato Chips with Bleu Cheese and melted mozzarella cheese.

Hot Wings – Jumbo chicken wings served with either Buffalo Sauce or Chipotle BBQ Sauce.

Dixie Fingers – This is my favorite. Chicken breasts are sliced into thin strips then hand breaded and lightly fried. Served with Chipotle BBQ Sauce, Ranch or Honey Mustard Sauce.

Pork Belly – Thick cut braised pork belly (uncured bacon) is covered with Sriracha sauce and pure maple syrup glaze.

Iowa Cheese Curds – fresh curds hand dipped in a craft beer batter.

The salads are made to order and only fresh ingredients are used. Margie was really happy with the Cobb Salad. It's a non-traditional Cobb because it includes smoked turkey and ham in addition to the usual components of hard boiled egg, avocado, tomato, bacon and blue cheese. These ingredients are all laid out in neat rows over baby greens. Can you imagine a salad that is almost too pretty to eat? Here's a little tip from Margie: the salads are huge so all you really need is a half salad. And all the half salads can be made into wraps made with fresh tortillas.

Many of the lunch items are as unusual as they are tasty. Take for example:

Chicken Club Milanese – a chicken breast is flattened, dipped in egg, Panko bread crumbs and fried in butter. Then it is placed between slices of grilled Texas toast with thick cut bacon, Swiss cheese and a dollop of homemade cilantro lime dressing.

Chipotle Pepper Penne – chopped chipotle peppers, tomato and cilantro is tossed with penne pasta and a creamy chipotle sauce.

Pork Tacos – braised pork shoulder, pork belly and Pico de Gallo is covered with Cotija (ko-tee-ka) cheese. It is unusual to see Cotija in this area. It's a Mexican cow's milk cheese named for the town of Cotija in the state of Michoacán.

Classic Grilled Reuben – corned beef briskets roasted in the kitchen are hand sliced. Then slices are placed on grilled rye bread with sauerkraut and Swiss cheese. This is a traditional Reuben because it contains Russian dressing rather than the more common Thousand Island dressing. Russian dressing is made from mayonnaise and ketchup and other ingredients such as pimentos and horseradish. Thousand Island is a mayonnaise base but no ketchup and typically other ingredients including olives, onions, eggs and pickles.

Fun Fact: Russian dressing was invented by James Colburn in New Hampshire and is not related to Russia in any way. Thousand Island dressing was invented by Sophia LaLonde, the wife of a fishing guide, who lived in the Thousand Islands Region located along both sides of the US and Canada border.

The talents and experience of Dee McNamer and Tammy Hammel are on full display with their choices for dinner entrées. For example:

Cedar Plank Salmon: They like to use Scottish farm raised Atlantic salmon. It has a juicier and better flavor and so much more so when it is topped with fresh homemade basil pesto.

Amish Chicken: They prefer the flavor of Amish chicken and their supplier provides them with an Amish airline breast: a boneless chicken breast with drumette attached. (This is the meaty part of the wing resembling a drumstick).

Mac N Cheese: The "mac" used here is penne pasta mixed with a sauce of parmesan, blocks of sharp cheddar and shredded cheddar cheese.

Steaks: They are charbroiled and so flavorful they do not require any special seasonings. Both the Ribeye and Kansas City Strip are bone-in for extra flavor. I highly recommend you ask for the Mushroom Medley with your steak. Chopped portabella and button mushrooms are simply grilled on a flat top in butter. These mushrooms are so delicious by themselves but are even better on a great steak!

Heritage Breed Double Cut Pork Chop: For more pork flavor enlightened chefs are now choosing Heritage Breed hogs. Heritage Breeds are the heirloom tomatoes of the pig world. They are not crossbred so they are fatter and therefore their meat is juicier and more "porky" flavored than typical grocery store brand pork. At River Rock the chops are brown sugar brined and finished with compound butter.

Don't forget to ask your server for the evening's dessert choices. On a recent visit I had a difficult time deciding if I needed (well, ok, wanted) Turtle Cheesecake, Apple or Berry Tart, Lava Cake, or Wiggle Whiskey Bundt Cake. I chose this last one because I wanted to see if it really wiggled. It did not but it had a great whiskey flavor complimented by the chopped walnuts on top.

The Holiday Inn and River Rock Kitchen and Tap is a great place to hold your private party. They have 3 rooms for 5 to 32 people and 2 ballrooms each accommodating up to 250 guests. ■

FAT BASICS 101

BY HY-VEE NUTRITIONISTS MEGAN HORSTMAN (ASBURY) AND AMY CORDINGLEY (LOCUST)

For years, we have heard to eat low-fat or fat-free foods. Are those really the best choices for us? What about those “healthy” fats that we are forgetting about? The topic of dietary fats can be very confusing; what is good for me and what is bad for me? Knowing the difference between saturated, trans, polyunsaturated (omega-3s and omega-6s), and monounsaturated (omega-9s) fats is key to picking a well-balanced diet.

We will start with the “bad”: saturated and trans fats. Why are these considered bad? These fats can negatively affect your health by increasing “bad” cholesterol (LDL), decreasing “good” cholesterol (HDL) and increasing your risk of developing coronary heart disease. We understand that bad cholesterol clogs arteries and good cholesterol helps to clear arteries, so why even eat saturated or trans fat? With the exception of artificially made trans fats, these fats do not need to be completely cut out, just consumed in moderation. The American Heart Association suggests that Americans eat 1% or less of their calories from trans fat and 7% or less from saturated fats.

Saturated and trans fat can still be found in many foods including animal products, doughnuts, potato chips, margarines and shortenings. Make sure to double check food labels under “total fat” to ensure you are not consuming too much of these fats and watch for the term “partially hydrogenated oils” in the ingredients list.

Now for the “good”: polyunsaturated and monounsaturated fats. Remember these fats are also called omegas. Why are these considered good? These fats can positively affect your health by improving cholesterol levels; reducing your risk of heart attack, stroke, and diabetes; aiding in fat-soluble vitamin absorption (vitamins A, D, E and K); helping cell development and healthy nerve activity; and by keeping the immune system healthy. With a list like that, who wouldn’t want to eat these healthy fats? Recommendations for adults 19 years and older state that 20% to 35% of your total calories should come from fat. Remember to consume the main portion from the healthy fats.

Omega-3 sources include oils such as canola, flax and soybean; walnuts; fish such as herring, mackerel, salmon and tuna; algae; and Omega-3 eggs.

Omega-6 sources include oils such as canola, corn, olive, peanut, safflower, soybean and sunflower; nuts such as almonds, cashews, hazelnuts, peanuts, pecans, pistachios and walnuts; eggs and dairy.

Omega-9 sources include oils such as canola, olive, peanut, sunflower, safflower; nuts such as almonds, cashews, macadamias, peanuts, pecans, pistachios, hazelnuts and walnuts; avocados; eggs; dairy; meat and poultry. ■

HABITUAL FAILURE OR HABITUAL SUCCESS?

BY MATT BOOTH

During one of my recent programs, I was explaining how I take off and add goals to my list all of the time. A person in the audience didn’t like the fact that I will take a goal off of my list that I have not accomplished. She called me a failure...a habitual failure. Apparently, she thinks failure is the opposite of success. It’s not, quitting is the opposite of success. Without failure, it’s likely that there will be no success.

That might not make much sense if you’re thinking of failure in terms of it being permanent (quitting). So I would challenge you to think of failure a little differently than you may have to this point. Failure is temporary. It really only becomes permanent when you accept it as permanent and quit. I think of a failure as a chance to recalculate your life GPS. If you’re on a journey, and you know the destination, doesn’t it make sense that you’d have to recalculate? When you fail and continue to push forward, you are getting closer to your destination. Failure gives you directions to success.

For most, the idea of failure conjures up all sorts of negative images and feelings. From an early age, we are plagued with the fear of failure because our world doesn’t reward failure. Therefore, most people avoid failure at any cost. We get so focused on not failing that we don’t aim for success and settle for a life of mediocrity. One of the toughest lessons to learn is that failing at a particular task does not mean permanent failure. Rather, it is failure that brings about growth and transformation.

Success does not exist without failure. Great success depends on great risk, and failure is simply a common byproduct. Do not fear failure. Don’t shy away from failure, embrace it. Become a veteran of failure. If you want to become habitually successful in your life, learn how to habitually fail. ■

NSA
BY BOB GELMS

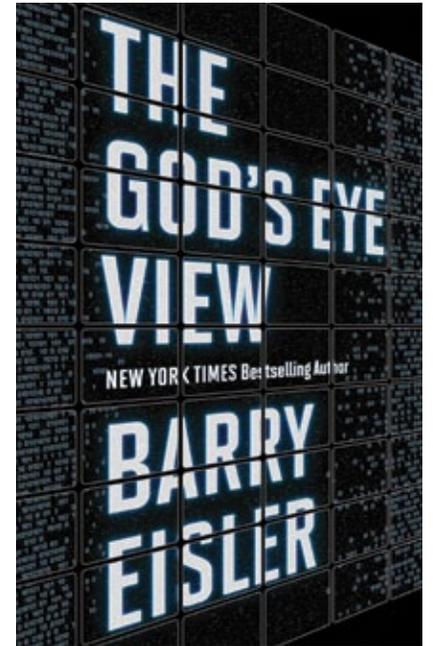

The National Security Agency would like to think that its initials also mean Nice Secure Americans. The American people seem to think it means Never See Anything. These days, the impression of our premiere spy agency definitely comes in two parts: Before Snowden and After Snowden. The Snowden of course would be Edward Snowden, former computer whiz kid with the CIA and whistleblower on the NSA. We found out from Snowden's revelations that the NSA has world capabilities in its efforts to hack into anything electronic to feed the beast information. Their ultimate goal is to know everything. As they say, "Knowledge is power, power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely." with apologies to Lord Acton.

The God's Eye View by Barry Eisler takes this one step farther, but without the Snowden revelations, the book would seem way too farfetched. After Snowden, we now know that the NSA's capacity to produce intelligence gathered from electronic sources is nothing short of stunning. In the book they use ALL electronic sources like computers, cell-phones, credit cards, traffic cameras, surveillance cameras, satellites and automobile computers. The list is almost endless and they seem to be able to do all of this in real time. Beyond question, Big Brother has arrived and for the most part they did this without court approval or got approval of a secret court. The fact still remains that they were spying on American citizens.

All that is true in the real world is also true in the novel. At times I thought I was reading a non-fiction expose of the NSA. Mr. Eisler provides a checklist of sorts, like a bibliography of sources confirming information in the book. He provides links to the original articles. It is superb.

In the book, Evelyn Gallagher is a top computer expert working directly for Director Anders in a super secret section of the NSA. She doesn't know it just yet (because secret work inside the NSA is so compartmentalized nobody has the big picture) but she is working on an essential part of a surveillance program whose secret name is God's Eye. Her bit is to write code to link all cameras on Earth with face recognition programs. She has done it.

Another NSA employee has managed to get a thumb drive of God's Eye and is going to turn it over to some journalists à la Edward Snowden and Wiki leaks. Director Anders has to stop them and he unleashes two, well, two psychopaths, Delgado and Manus, to recover the information using any means necessary. Anders sets up the murder of several journalists and the kidnapping/murder of the NSA employee. Evelyn gets wind of it and starts to nose around, which puts her and her deaf son in extreme danger. They high tail it on the lamb but Anders has God's Eye to track her.

Delgado and Manus are two very different psychotics. Manus does have a bit of a conscience but Delgado seems only to have traits of a serial killer who is bent to the will of Director Anders. These are both dangerous men and they kill without guilt or remorse. I should say they butcher their victims and Delgado throws in torture, which seems to give him a particular thrill. This is where the wheels come off. Director Anders looses it and wants to have everyone killed to protect the God's Eye secret. Apparently the President doesn't know about it and neither does Congress.

The three main characters in the book, Director Anders, Gallagher and Manus, are very well drawn out into believable three-dimensional characters. The ending of The God's Eye View is very satisfying, as is the whole book. I'm glad I read it. It was a riveting experience.

So much so that I realized that the right to privacy in this country is something of a joke. Looking for a little anonymity, I downloaded the browser Tor. When I told one of my daughters she said, "Hey, Dad, you know that Tor is the browser that hackers use. You probably just identified yourself to the NSA as a hacker." OH GREAT! Well, I hope to see you all in these pages in the future. In case I don't show up in two weeks, good luck, be well, and don't believe everything you read in the papers. ■

Move over, Steve!

Do it yourself advice from a new mom who knows how...

by Sara Carpenter
from Steve's Ace Home & Garden

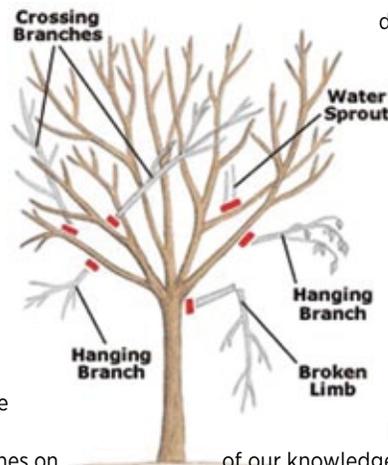

SPRING FEVER

Spring is officially here and I have been getting lots of questions from people who are anxious to work in their yards. Pruning trees and shrubs can be one of the most daunting tasks we do in the garden. From the best tools to use to the proper place to cut, it can all be very overwhelming. Here are a few pointers for successful pruning...

- Now is a great time to get out in your yard and prune just about everything except early spring blooming shrubs and oak trees, as pruning them now can make oaks more susceptible to certain diseases. By pruning just before spring growth starts, the fresh wounds are exposed for only a short length of time before new growth begins the wound sealing process.
- Determine when the shrub you are considering pruning typically blooms. Early blooming shrubs and trees such as Rhododendrons, Weigelas, Forsythias, Lilacs and Crabapples should be avoided until after they bloom. Then within approximately one month after that initial bloom, prune the spent blooms off and shape as needed.
- Generally speaking, you can choose to prune up to one-third of the overall size of a plant back without stressing it too much.
- Plants with marginally hardy woody stems, such as roses, some hydrangeas, and clematis, should be pruned back to where the stems are green.
- Prune any rubbing or crossing branches on young trees to encourage a healthy form long term. Remove any suckers that emerge near the base of the trunk. Gradually remove too low branches near the bottom of the canopy as new taller growth appears.

- As plants become tired and overgrown, it can rejuvenate them to do some aggressive pruning. Choose up to one-third of the oldest, thickest stems and remove them right off of the ground. I often use my Sawzall to do this job as I can get in some tighter spots with it. Do this each year until there are no longer any thick, overgrown trunks left.
- Be sure to use clean, well sharpened pruners to make any cuts. Dip the blades in a bleach solution in between cuts to ensure that you do not spread disease by accident.
- Use anvil pruners for cutting out dead wood as they crush the stems and choose bypass pruners for green, live growth.
 - Consider applying a dormant oil spray to trees and shrubs that are more prone to insect damage now to protect them all summer long.

With the growing popularity of dwarf shrubs available, note that not all plants will require regular, if any, pruning and in doing so, you can really take away from the overall natural habit of those shrubs. If you have any specific pruning questions, feel free to stop by the garden center and talk to one of our knowledgeable garden team members or email me at sara@stevesace.com. Happy Pruning! ■

DEAR GLENDA!

When it rains it pours! I've been single for the past 2 years and suddenly I have women interested in me. My quandary is choosing the right one. Im afraid if I pursue one, I'll lose the opportunity for the one that was really to be my match. Any advice on the selection process before I make the moves?
—Sincerely, Henri

DEAR ROMEO,

Count your blessings my friend, in this case the ladies beaconing for your ever lasting devotion. It's a good problem to have, especially considering the recent considerable drought and the promising selection process within arms reach. With that being said, write a list of what's most important to you. Then toss it because you're probably thinking from your privates perspectives. The second attempted list of criteria should be written with your mothers voice in mind.

1. Future daughter in law producing Grand Babies not delivered under wed locking or hoochie Mama circumstances.
2. Homemaker extraordinaire while maintaining a 6 figure income.
3. Someone that will dutifully wait on her baby boy, praise and admire his mere presence and keep him off the bar stool and porn sights with her womanly intoxications.

Once you have successfully disqualified all potentials including your mothers lofty goals, go mail order bride, set her up with a mop and broom with Maid to Order cleaning service earning her keep and relish the next five years until the green card is delivered and she's running as fast as she can to get away from Mamas boy, leaving you in another dry spell until she kicks the bucket.

Happy Hunting and may the best girl run like hell.
—Glenda

DEAR GLENDA,

I live here in Dubuque, love the downtown and walking to the Library and partaking in all the events that are ongoing there. I'm a person of solitude and like the library for that particular reason. I can be amongst people yet not having to interact better yet, where small talk or general conversation isn't encouraged. But what I find isn't just that. There is a continual flow of conversation and noise piping through the halls and book cases, it makes me frazzled. I hate to be a shusher or tattler but really want the "Quiet Zone" to be quiet.
—Sincerely, Dale, Keeper of Peace

DEAR DALE THE DOWNER,

Come on. Don't you get enough QT by yourself all day and night long. Can't you allow the fellow solitudelike gurus looking for a place to gather with hopes of an occasional cheap thrill of a "hello", "what are you reading", "how is your day"? My advice, stay home in your self induced padded cell and spare the town of your noise controlling nature. Do you hear me screaming?
