WHERE'S WANDO?

WE'VE HIDDEN WANDO SOMEWHERE IN THIS ISSUE OF 365INK. CAN YOU FIND HIM?

So last night, I had enough.

Here's the thing. All people are indeed entitled to their own opinions. But if you are sharing, we'll call it "information," that not only has no basis in truth, A.K.A. "facts," but also adds in a touch of "crazy," I'm sorry but you are not entitled to that. You see me get my "troll" on.

We've entered a very stage and dangerous now ground in human discourse where people have dispensed with truth in order to share, well, I don't know what it is. But that's actually not new. What's new is that these people now counter their baseless accusations by attacking the sources of actual factual information which rebut everything they've shared with concise and sourced information that until recently, the world know as "facts."

I am fully aware that hogwash comes from the extremes of both ends of the media spectrum. One just comes out in a trickle while the other end seems to be a torrent. In either case, when I see something, say on Facebook, that just seems, we'll call it "unbelievable," I say to myself with huge amounts of doubt, "thaaaaat can't be." I then proceed to take 30 seconds to a minute to look and find out if it is so. I do this to stories from both sides. For example, when I see something for my own left wing blogosphere that seems too good to be true because I wish it was, I am skeptical.

Lately, what was once clearly insane seems commonplace. But even in this "new normal" are things that I see and think, "You know, I don't like Paul Ryan but he would never say that." And I think that it usually turns out to be right. For every story like that from the left, I see 50 from the right wing fringe that do the same thing. And I think this is noteworthy because I have basically blocked the feeds from every single local right wing nutter I know so I don't have to endure their incessantly shared ignorance. But it still trickles through and is almost never even close to based in truth.

Consider that we now live in a world where the New York Times is anointed "fake news" by a man who shares news stories from the fringest of right wing fringe blogs. If any news source has proven its meddle as a reliable source for researched and vetted information for about 100 years, it is the New York Times. And with the swipe of his tiny hand, he has proclaimed them to be fake and people nod their heads in ascent. I just hope some nod slowly and feel pangs of guilt knowing that something is very fishy here. Never mind that he's also now made the FBI public enemy #1 after they started looking at him too closely. And again, people nodded along.

Last night, in the middle of a somewhat civilized discussion about whether politics belonged in an Oscars Ceremony, one, um... we'll call her a "contributor," quickly went off the rails and interjected some coo-coo for Cocoa Puffs bit of evidence relating to something about Hillary Clinton and John Podesta partaking in satanic spirit cooking rituals. No, stay with me here. Quickly my BS meter spiked and despite her assurances that it was true, "just look at the YouTube movie," a 10 second Snopes search came up with a pile of information, contextualization and, what are those things? Oh yeah, "FACTS," that quickly debunked this nonsense.

But this is where we're at a new level of nutty. Because she then attacked Snopes.com as being owned by the most ultra liberal left wing media (which it is not) and everything on there is lies (which would go against its reason for existing). People say it's liberal, mainly because the preponderance of lies it has to debunk come from the fringe right, people like Alex Jones. It is NOT owned or funded by George Soros (always bring up George Soros when you have no ammunition in a fight with a liberal). It's funded entirely by advertising on the site and FactCheck.org surveyed all facts checked by the site related to Obama, Bush and Palin in 2012 and found every one to be accurately reviewed. But like the New York Times, when there is a source with trackable facts, smear it.

So she then turned to another tactic. "Prove me wrong"! Instead of feeling that her very, very thin claim had to in any way be proven correct, she wants me to unprove her invented truth.

So now instead of starting at level ground, we now start at preposterous with a challenge to provide proof to get back to level ground. It's like someone saying "You molest sheep, prove me wrong." There was once a time where people would ignore this kind of stupidity and continue on with their day, but now we have a mesmerized population saying, "Yeah I think he does molest sheep. I'm not gonna check but it sounds like something that I wish we could catch him doing so I'm just going to share this with all my friends because it supports my preconceived ideals."

It's gone beyond no one wanting to do research, but just wanting to be right. Now were are at a place where someone did do the research but the other person is just calling that research lies and fake and sticking with their comfortable garbage bubble.

How do you know if you're in the garbage bubble? Well, if you still think Obama is a secret non-American Muslim or that the Clintons run a pizza place that traffics in sex workers... you might want to get an air freshener.

Prove me wrong. ■

HILLBILLY
 SILLY SCIENCE
 SPECTACULAR:
 DINO-MYTE THEORIES!

SATURDAY, MARCH 10
 2 PM @ GRAND OPERA HOUSE (135 W 8TH ST)

The Hillbilly Silly Science Spectacular is back—and this time it's BIGGER than ever! The "Dino-Might Theories" show is ready to make an impression of Jurassic proportions on March 10 at 2 p.m. at the Grand Opera House.

Watch as Dr. Cletus Beaker takes a zany look into the world of dinosaurs. With his use of homemade experiments, fun antics, and big stage props, he will take you on a journey to examine all of the theories that have been developed as to how the dinosaurs may have gone extinct, from volcanoes to enormous meteors and the ice age. Who knows, maybe even a dinosaur will make an appearance, too! The performance will be followed by a meet and greet.

The Grand Opera House hits the road with community outreach performances. Dr. Cletus Beaker will bring their special brand of "educat'in and entertain'in" to area elementary school students. All performances are supported in part by a grant from the Arts Midwest Touring Fund, a program of Arts Midwest that is funded by the National Endowment for the Arts, with additional contributions from the Iowa Arts Council and the Crane Group.

The outreach programs represent the Grand's continued commitment to the organization's mission, "...to provide quality performing arts educations for all ages...", and offers the opportunity for us to extend our reach beyond the walls of our historic venue.

Tickets are $10 and can be purchased in person at the Box Office (Monday through Friday from noon until 4 p.m.) or by calling 563-588-1305. Tickets can also be purchased at TheGrandOperaHouse.com. ■

BRIAN K. KENNEDY LECTURE

THE AGE OF AGING: CAN WE INTERVENE?

THURSDAY, MARCH 15

7:30 PM @ CLARKE UNIVERSITY
JANSEN MUSIC HALL (1550 CLARKE DR)

Brian K. Kennedy, Ph.D., is the keynote speaker for the Mary Murphy, BVM, Endowed Lecture in Biology on March 20 in Jansen Music Hall on the campus of Clarke University. Kennedy's lecture, "The Age of Aging: Can We Intervene?" attends to translating research discoveries into new ways of delaying, detecting, preventing, and treating human aging and associated diseases.

Dr. Kennedy is the Director of the Centre for Healthy Aging at the Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine at National University Singapore, as well as a Distinguished Professor in Biochemistry and Physiology at the institution. He is internationally recognized for his research in the basic biology of aging.

"Singapore has a unique opportunity to become a leader in research on human aging, particularly its clinical application," stated Dr. Kennedy. "It is already possible to extend lifespan and health span in animal models and the time has come for human testing. With its aging population and, importantly, its progressive approach to develop the best and most efficient healthcare system, Singapore is poised to take the lead in human aging studies. My goal is to work with the NUS Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine to help Singaporeans extend their health span—to live healthily for as long as possible."

The lecture is free and open to the public. For more information, visit clarke.edu. ■

B'ANN DITTMAR LECTURE

DREAM JOB, PART II

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21

7:30 PM @ CLARKE UNIVERSITY JANSEN MUSIC HALL (1550 CLARKE DR)

B'Ann Dittmar, Instructor of Business Management at Clarke University, will give the Mackin-Mailander Faculty Lecture on March 21 in Jansen Music Hall on the campus of Clarke University. The free lecture is set for 7:30 p.m. and is open to the public.

Dittmar's lecture is titled "Dream Job, Part II." She will share with the audience her career path from a bank teller to a bank president to a college professor at Clarke University.

"My story is about declaring what I wanted to do in life early on but taking about 20 years to actually do it! When I was a senior in high school, I declared to a good friend that I wanted to be a college professor one day," stated Dittmar.

Dittmar had a 19-year career in banking and prior to leaving the industry, was the President of the Dubuque and Galena U.S. Bank markets.

She goes on to say, "Prior to becoming the president of the bank, I had an opportunity to serve in a bank trainer role, and I also taught college classes as an adjunct during that time.

It was then that I discovered my love of teaching and my passion for it."

The event is part of the Mackin-Mailander lecture series and the year's lecture theme of Discovering Yourself.

LIVE AT HERITAGE CENTER PERFORMING ARTS SERIES FLY DANCE COMPANY

FRIDAY, MARCH 23

7:30 PM @ UNIVERSITY OF DUBUQUE HERITAGE CENTER
JOHN AND ALICE BUTLER HALL (2255 BENNETT ST)

University of Dubuque's Heritage Center continues its fifth annual Live at Heritage Center Performing Arts Series with FLY Dance Company on Friday, March 23, at 7:30 p.m. in John and Alice Butler Hall. The 10-member, all-male contemporary dance company from Houston is known for its high energy breakdancing, hip-hop, acrobatic, and modern dance that crosses audience boundaries with pieces combining styles and cultures to reflect contemporary Americana.

Within three seasons of touring, FLY went from an unknown, hard to categorize dance company with no touring experience to a popular, new group wowing audiences around the country with 60 concerts and 100 educational shows annually—all while producing its own concert season in Houston.

Labeled an artistic phenomenon, FLY crosses street dance with classical choreographic principles through music as diverse as Stravinsky, Debussy, Michael Jackson, Nat King Cole, Three Dog Night, Isaac Hayes, Escala, Vivaldi, Wes Montgomery, Dave Barbour, The Funky Lowlives, Rahzel, James Brown, and Earth Wind & Fire.

FLY's performance style is called theatrical hip hop—"theatrical" in that acting is an essential element of the style. FLY's performing repertory is varied musically and choreographically and its dancers are skilled and highly adaptable. Nicknaming themselves "The Gentlemen of Hip-Hop," this group of young men takes pride in the style of dance they've created, which combines classical dance training and technique with street dancing.

Prior to the show, members of the company will deliver a free pre-show lecture from 6:30 to 7 p.m. in Babka Theatre, adjacent to Butler Hall.

Tickets are $28-33 for adults, $24-28 for military and UD alumni, and $15 for children and students. Tickets can be purchased Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Heritage Center Farber Box Office; by phone at 563-585-SHOW; or online at DBQ.edu/heritagecenter. ■

MOVIE BUZZ

Disney just made some massive changes to its upcoming film slate. Among these decisions included the choice to move Avengers: Infinity War up one week ahead of schedule, as well as the decision to move Niki Caro's Mulan back by a year. Now, Anna Kendrick's upcoming holiday movie Noelle has been completely removed from the schedule, and it appears like it's headed for the Disney streaming service instead. Noelle, which centers on Santa's daughter taking control of operations at the North Pole, was initially set for release on Nov. 8, 2019. It might be a move to help launch the company's new streaming platform. On the other (more cynical) hand, it could be a move to dump a project that might not do well at the box office.

After numerous attempts to re-tell the story of Eric Draven on the big screen, the Crow project is finally going forward, with Jason Momoa playing the eponymous protagonist. To prove it's serious about releasing The Crow reboot to the masses, Sony Pictures announced that the movie has been scheduled for Oct. 11, 2019. Like the original Crow movie, the reboot is expected to be a faithful adaptation of the 1989 comic book written by James O'Barr. The story follows Eric Draven, who is resurrected from the dead and used his new abilities to avenge both his demise and the death of his fiancé, Shelly.

In the summer of 2014, 20th Century Fox announced that they were going to be bringing the Predator series back and now it's just months, September of 2018. This iteration definitely fits within the continuity of Predator, Predator 2 and Predators and is absolutely not a reboot. The movie will be set in the present day and the story will center on a former marine who discovers evidence that a Predator is on Earth. Unfortunately for him, nobody actually believes his claims, leading him to personally try and do something about it, part of which is assembling a team that can help him out.

CELEBRATION!

THE DUBUQUE CITY YOUTH BALLET 50TH ANNIVERSARY

MARCH 16 AND 17 @ 7:30 PM

MARCH 18 @ 2 PM

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (135 W 8TH ST)

The Grand Opera House and Dubuque City Youth Ballet present CELEBRATION! The Dubuque City Youth Ballet 50th Anniversary presentation on March 16 and 17 at 7:30 p.m. and March 18 at 2 p.m. This program, lovingly produced by director Marina O'Rourke and Artist-in Residence Megan MacLeod, presents an array of ballet styles that make the Dubuque City Youth Ballet what it is today: a dynamic, rich, technically superior company of young dancers.

The Dubuque City Youth Ballet was first formed in 1968 under the direction of Tatiana Bechenova (Tanya, to many), and made its debut performance at the University of Northern Iowa, as guests of the UNI symphony orchestra, Donald Wendt, Conductor. Fifty years later, the repertory is rich with Russian ballets, world-wide favorites and dozens of original works. Now under the leadership of Tanya's daughter Marina O'Rourke, each Christmas the Dubuque City Youth Ballet presents The Nutcracker Ballet, and in the spring many dancers from the company participate in their spring presentation. The Dancers participate in a variety of ballets from established classics to contemporary world premieres. This year in honor of their 50th Anniversary, the Dubuque City Youth Ballet is presenting a selection of pieces from ballets in their repertoire.

INSIDE JOKE

ART EXHIBIT BY
MATTHEW MIKULICE
SHOW: MARCH 16–APRIL 15
RECEPTION: FRIDAY,
MARCH 16 @ 6–9 PM
DUBUQUE AREA ARTS
COLLECTIVE (375 BLUFF ST)

Matthew Mikulice presents his exhibit Inside Joke at the Dubuque Area Arts Collective, located above Monk's, on March 16 through April 15. Join for an opening reception on Friday, March 16 at 6–9 p.m.

Institutional critique? An excuse to have fun? Self reflective? Self destructive? In our world of rushed, garbled, half-formed media a single thought is oft stifled and verily forgotten. It is as if our collective misunderstanding has spilled out of our consciousness and consumed the world. The "Art World" is a dysfunctional parasite attached to this blurred and lurching creature. But it's also kinda cool, I guess. Enjoy the show. Or don't. But please, grab a drink.

The gallery is open Saturdays and Sundays from noon to 4 p.m. For more information, contact SalonDBQ@gmail.com. ■

The Dubuque Museum of Art (DuMA), in collaboration with the Dubuque Community School District and Holy Family Schools, will present the annual All Schools K-8 Student Art Exhibition in March. The exhibition dates are March 22–May 13. An opening reception in honor of participating students, parents and teachers will take place on Thursday, March 22 from 5 to 6 p.m. The reception is free and open to the public.

"The museum has a long commitment to partnering with the schools to display student artwork," explained David Schmitz, executive director. "It's very important, both as an arts organization and as a community, that we recognize and celebrate the artistic creativity of our young people."

This year's exhibition is sponsored by Anderson-Weber Toyota and Laura and Chad Chandlee.

The All Schools K-8 Student Art Exhibition coincides with the annual Arts Trek school tour program, also offered by DuMA. Through Arts Trek, every second-grade student in Dubuque Community and Holy Family Schools—more than 1,000 in all—receive sponsored bus transportation to and from the museum and participate in a 45-minute tour of the current exhibitions, followed by a guided hands-on art activity in the Glab Family Art Studio.

FIVE FLAGS SPRINGS TO LIFE! 10 SHOWS, 23 PERFORMANCES, 35 DAYS

Fresh off of their “Best of 2017” win at the 2018 365ink Impact Awards, Five Flags is proving all over again why they were worthy of the moniker again in March of 2018. One year ago we put Five Flags on the cover because they had such a big month of entertainment coming up. As we look ahead to the next 60 days at Five Flags, it makes last year’s impressive line up look like small potatoes. Prepare for the two biggest consecutive months of Five Flags Center entertainment ever. Period.

Already in the last few months, Five Flags has broken its own record for single event ticket grosses four times with Martina McBride, Kenny Rogers, Chicago and now Willie Nelson, which is sold out save for a handful of single seats here and there. And now we as a community get to reap the rewards of the hard work of general manager H.R. Cook and his crews as a slate of diverse entertainment takes the stage.

In the following pages, we highlight 10 big events that actually include 23 performances. Classic rock legends Chicago and Three Dog Night and country music icons Willie Nelson and Dwight Yoakam will fill the area with music just days apart. The first event on ice in a decade will take place when Disney on Ice comes for seven huge shows.

Memorable symphony moments will also make history at Five Flags as their Star Crossed Lovers performances on March 24 and 25 will be followed by an amazing fully staged music theater performance of West Side Story April 13–15.

Add in family fun with Dueling Dogs, adult comedy from famed comic Lisa Lampanelli (we wish Trixie Kitsch were still here for this one!), classical piano from George Winston as well as Newsboys in concert. Newsboys is another entry into what has been a massively successful faith-based series of concerts at Five Flags in the last couple of years.

What it adds up to is two months of unparalleled entertainment that truly touches on just about every format and fan base in the Tri-States. Five Flags has come through for us. So now it’s our turn to come through in support of great entertainment in Dubuque and get out and support these shows. And hey, they got a beautiful new HD digital marquee installed at the corner of 4th and Locust to finally give these shows the promotion they deserve. Drive by and check it out!

Five Flags is the place to be this spring! Five Flags is located at 405 Main St. with the box office located on the Locust St. entrance. Tickets can be purchased at Ticketmaster.com and Five Flags Center box office, at Ticketmaster Outlets or charge by phone at 800-745-3000. Five Flags Center Box office hours are Monday through Friday, 10 a.m.–5 p.m. Visit FiveFlagsCenter.com for a full calendar of all upcoming entertainment. ■

THREE DOG NIGHT

THURSDAY, MARCH 15
7 PM @ FIVE FLAGS CENTER (405 MAIN ST)

Legendary music icons Three Dog Night are celebrating nearly five decades of music at the Five Flags Center on Thursday, March 15 at 7 p.m.

In the years 1969 through 1974, no other group achieved more top 10 hits, moved more records or sold more concert tickets than Three Dog Night. Songs like “Mama Told Me (Not To Come)”, “Joy to the World”, “Black and White”, “Shambala” and “One” serve to heighten our emotions and crystallize Three Dog Night’s continuing popularity. This Grammy-nominated band is not content resting on its legacy alone.

Recently, Three Dog Night began adding new songs to its arsenal by releasing its first double-A sided single in nearly 25 years including the blistering performance of “Heart Of Blues” and the beautiful a-cappella ballad “Prayer of the Children”.

Three Dog Night had 21 consecutive Top 40 hits, including 3 #1 singles, 11 Top 10’s, 18 straight Top 20’s, 7 million-selling singles and 12 straight RIAA Certified Gold LPs. The hits appeared on best-selling charts in all genres (pop, rock and country). Its records continue to sell around the world, reaching beyond the borders of the U.S. into Japan, Canada, Holland, England, Germany. Tens of millions of records have been sold.

Three Dog Night is one of the best (and most successful) new songwriters of the last 50 years. Harry Nilsson, John, Laura Nyro, Hoyt Axton and the group’s eclectic sound and its ability to reach into a unique, dominating style, resulting in dominating tickets are available.

CHICAGO

And Chicago is the first American rock band to chart Top 40 albums in six consecutive decades. They were inducted into the 2016 Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.

Chicago’s first album, Chicago Transit Authority, was inducted into the GRAMMY Hall Of Fame in 2014, and the band performed on the Grammy stage for the first time that year.

From the signature sound of the Chicago horns, their iconic Vocalists, and a few dozen of ever-Classic Songs, this band’s concerts are celebrations. 2017 marked the band’s 50th consecutive year of touring, without missing a single concert date!

Tickets are $45–$135. ■

LISA LAMPANELLI LIVE

SATURDAY, MARCH 31 @ 7 PM

Comedy's Lovable Queen of Mean, Lisa Lampanelli will be bringing her standup act to the Five Flags center on Saturday, March 31 at 7 p.m.

Heralded as "more than a standup—a standout," by comedy legend Jim Carrey, and called "a true original and a brilliant comedy mind who'll steal the show every time" by her hero Howard Stern, Lampanelli is known for saying things that most people are afraid to think. Her raunchy, gut-busting performances are wildly popular at theaters across the U.S. and Canada.

Lampanelli's fifth stand-up special, 2015's Back to the Drawing Board, proved the insult comic was new, improved, and funnier than ever. The EPIX special was nominated for a Grammy Award for Best Comedy Album of the Year and showed off Lisa's radically different look after having lost more than 100 pounds with the help of gastric sleeve surgery. That weight loss and her love of theatre, inspired her to write Stuffed: A Big-Boned, Skinny-Ass, All-You-Can-Laugh New Play. Having been every size from 2 to 26, Lampanelli has firsthand knowledge of the food and body-image struggle.

Extreme Explicit Language. This is geared towards a 21+ audience. Tickets are $29-$49. ■

DUBUQUE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA PRESENTS WEST SIDE STORY

APRIL 13 AND 14 @ 7:30 PM

APRIL 15 @ 2 PM

The Dubuque Symphony Orchestra's 59th season culminates April 13-15 at the Five Flags Center, with a fully staged production of the musical West Side Story.

"This will be an extraordinary collaboration between our orchestra, the Heartland Ballet, and talented singers who have grown up in the Dubuque area and have moved on to professional performing careers—it's a not-to-be missed event!" notes Music Director and Conductor, William Intriligator.

From the first notes to the final breath, West Side Story is one of the most memorable musicals and greatest love stories. Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet is transported to modern-day New York City as two young, idealistic lovers find themselves caught between warring street gangs. Their struggle to survive in a world of hate, violence and prejudice is one of the most innovative, heart-wrenching and relevant musical dramas of our time. In this revolutionary work that changed the course of the American musical, Leonard Bernstein, Stephen Sondheim and Arthur Laurents bring their award-winning genius to the immortal story of star-crossed lovers. The Grammy-winning score includes "Maria," "Somewhere," "Tonight," "I Feel Pretty," and "America."

DSO's production features guest artists Sarah Ellis and Matthew Richardson as Maria and Tony. Production is directed and choreographed by Marina O'Rourke.

Ellis, a Platteville native, spent 10 years dancing with the Heartland Ballet and Dubuque City Youth Academy of Ballet Companies. She is an actress, vocalist and dancer currently based in New York City—most recently performing in Million Dollar Quartet with the Riverside Theater.

Richardson graduated from the Eastman School of Music and has built a professional performing career singing with symphonies, opera and theater companies in the US and abroad. He is currently serving as an active duty military musician in the United States Army Chorus stationed in Arlington, Virginia.

This concert is made possible by the generous support of American Trust; and guest artist sponsor Jack & Mantea Schmid.

Tickets are $17-$87. ■

WILLIE NELSON

WITH SPECIAL GUESTS DWIGHT YOAKAM, ROBERT EARL KEEN AND BRANDY CLARK

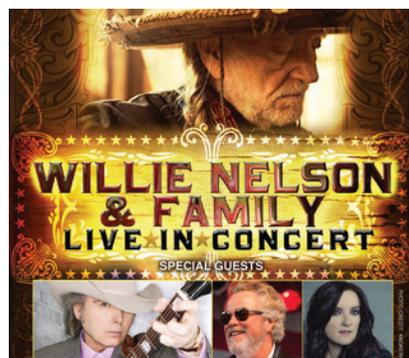

FRIDAY, APRIL 13 @ 6:20 PM

Willie Nelson is returning to Dubuque for the first time since December 2008 to the Five Flags Center, Friday, April 13 at 6:20 p.m. with special guests Dwight Yoakam, Robert Earl Keen & Brandy Clark. Presented by American Trust & Savings Bank.

With a six-decade career and 200 plus albums, this iconic Texan Willie Nelson is the creative genius behind the historic recordings of Crazy, Red Headed Stranger, and Stardust.

Dwight Yoakam has risen from hot country star to being one of country music's biggest influences. It was always already implicit in his music, from "Miner's Prayer" on his first album 30 years ago to his one-off collaborations with Ralph Stanley and Earl Scruggs.

Debuting with 1984's No Kinda Dancer, Robert Earl Keen has recorded 18 full-length albums for both independent and major record labels.

Although both his albums and live performances span many different styles, from folk, country, and bluegrass to rock, he is most commonly affiliated with the Americana genre.

Brandy Clark's debut album 12 Stories is a GRAMMY- and CMA-nominated release that earned her a collaboration with Dwight Yoakam on the 2015 GRAMMY Awards in recognition of her nomination in the all-genre Best New Artist category. Now she gears up for her sophomore set, the alternately feisty and poignant Big Day in a Small Town.

Tickets are $49.50-$154.50 and are nearly sold out. ■

GEORGE WINSTON

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18 @ 7 PM

Pianist George Winston will be performing at the Five Flags Center on Wednesday, April 18 at 7 p.m.

Winston grew up mainly in Montana, and also spent his later formative years in Mississippi and Florida. His favorite music was instrumental rock and instrumental R&B, including Floyd Cramer, the Ventures, Booker T & The MG's, Jimmy Smith, and many more.

Inspired by R&B, jazz, blues and rock (especially the Doors), George began playing organ in 1967. In 1971 he switched to the acoustic piano after hearing recordings from the 1920s and the 1930s by the legendary stride pianists Thomas "Fats" Waller and Teddy Wilson.

In addition to working on stride piano, he also at this time came up with his own style of melodic instrumental music on solo piano, called folk piano. His main influences currently are the New Orleans R&B pianists Professor Longhair, James Booker, and Henry Butler.

In George Winston's 11th album, Plains, he composed a song titled "Dubuque," which is the first track of the album. Plains was certified Gold by the RIAA in 2000. Other albums George is known for is December, Linus and Lucy—The Music of Vince Guaraldi, and Summer.

Since 1972, George has released 13 solo piano albums, and his latest releases are Love Will Come—The Music Of Vince Guaraldi Vol 2 (2010), and Gulf Coast Blues & Impressions 2—A Louisiana Wetlands Benefit (2012).

Please join us in support of a local food bank by bringing a donation of canned food to the concert. There will be collection baskets at the entrances.

Tickets are $37-$77. ■

Joe and Vicki Price

8 PM @ THE LIFT (180 MAIN ST)

In 1951, this current incarnation of Joe Price arrived in Waterloo, Iowa. Although his love for music was virtually immediate, it was country blues that grabbed him early; a bond that has never been broken. Vicki Price might be Iowa's answer to early Maria Muldaur (when she was Maria d'Amato) with the Mississippi River vocal twang, but rooted more solidly in the blues. With a more disciplined and structural guitar style providing a comping background spine to Joe's slide and lead work, the two styles dovetailed into a coherent convincing whole.

COUNTRY HEIGHTS SUPPER CLUB

ORIGINALLY RUN ON MAY 9, 2013

BY RICH BELMONT

Several of you have contacted me and asked for a review of one of your favorites right here in our area: Country Heights Supper Club. It's in Hazel Green, WI and it's very easy to get to. Country Heights is just 3 and a half miles and about a 5 minute ride from the Dubuque-Wisconsin Bridge. Just take US Highway 61/151 North to Exit 2 and turn left onto Badger Road. It's open every night for dinner except Monday. When you walk in you cannot help but notice the place is pretty big. It has 36 seats around the bar and seats 244 in two dining rooms. You can sit at the bar for a couple of highballs and then order your dinner right from there or you can walk past the bar and go to the hostess stand and ask for a table. I did notice, though, most of the regulars go to the bar first. That's because in this supper club all the bartenders are experienced mixologists and serve excellent cocktails specializing in Manhattans, Margaritas and Whiskey or Brandy Old Fashioneds.

Pretty soon you will feel the ambience that is pure Wisconsin Gemütlichkeit. This means the atmosphere induces a cheerful mood, peace of mind and unhurried coziness. This feeling has been cultivated over the last 44 years. You see the premises were specifically built to be a supper club in 1969. Then 29 years ago it became known as Country Heights Supper Club and Motor Inn.

Mike and Cathy Brotzman purchased it over 13 years ago. They were determined to maintain the Supper Club tradition of fine food for reasonable prices. So much so they spent many thousands of dollars on the installation of new kitchen equipment.

Mike had previously been at Timmerman's Motor Inn for 14 years. Mike and Cathy's son, Jim, grew up around the restaurant business and learned to cook at the Mid-Town Marina in East Dubuque, IL.

SALAD BAR

STEAK AND SHRIMP COMBO

Through their experience and hard work the Brotzman family has earned a reputation for Supper Club excellence. So much so Country Heights is pro led in the book Wisconsin Supper Clubs by Ron Faiola. This is quite an accomplishment considering even today there are still approximately 450 restaurants in Wisconsin advertising themselves as Supper Clubs.

Country Heights does not offer the customary relish tray you usually find in Supper Clubs. But this restaurant has a salad bar that is just as good if not better. The salad bar always has two very hot soups. You might find chicken or beef noodle or cheesy vegetable or my favorite, Bean n Ham. This last one is so good I always go back for seconds. The salad bar certainly lives up to its name. You will find homemade Braunschweiger, cheese spread, coleslaw, bean salad and iceberg lettuce salad.

However, the real stars of the salad bar are the Pasta Salads. I always take a little of each of them: vegetable, macaroni, spaghetti, pea, rotini, tri color, bow tie, mostaccioli, creamy cucumber and onions, and marshmallow with mandarin orange slices, to name a few.

Next up are the appetizers. You can choose hot wings, cheese curds or even sautéed, fried or blackened alligator bites if your taste tends toward the exotic. There are 3 different assortment platters. I like the Brew House platter with a huge pile of beer battered onion rings, mozzarella sticks, jalapeño snappers, shrimp, mushrooms and chicken strips.

My favorite starter is the Shrimp Cocktail. It's impressive because you get eight Extra Jumbo shrimp with a tasty cocktail sauce.

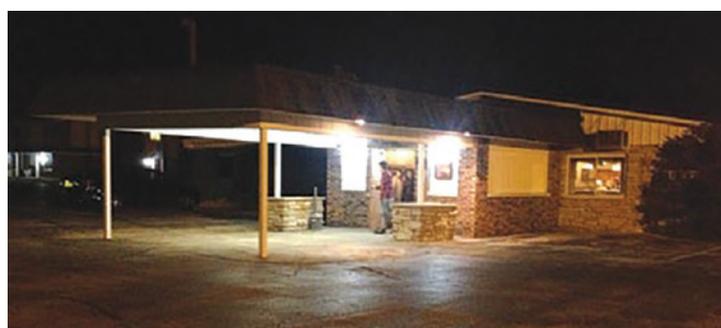

There are so many entrées to choose from it is difficult to pick just one. Luckily, when the 365ink tasting team visited this restaurant Mary Lumley was our waitress. She patiently assisted us in navigating the menu. She obviously knows it so well and it is no wonder: she has been at Country Heights over 25 years already!

You cannot go wrong with the steaks and chops. All of the meat is purchased from Weber Meats in Cuba City, WI. It is cooked on a charbroiler infusing it with outdoor grilling flavor. The New York Strip, Tenderloin, T-Bone and Sirloin steaks are all good choices. For something a little different try the Blackened Ribeye! It has a sweet, beefy flavor with a buttery crust.

The Broasted Chicken is exceptional. The chicken is fried in a Broaster which means it is cooked under high pressure insuring the inside is moist and juicy and the outside is crispy with very little oil absorption. There is also a separate fryer for all the fish entrées so there is no fishy crossover to the chicken.

The pork is well seasoned and is so moist and tender. A good way to sample the pork is to order the Pork Platter. It comes with a broiled pork chop, BBQ ribs and a smoked pork chop.

ORANGE ROUGHY

BROASTED CHICKEN

SHRIMP COCKTAIL

I really like the BBQ ribs here. I have been back to enjoy them twice already! Baby back ribs are boiled for 3 hours and then broiled with a topping of Cookies Bar "B" "Q" sauce. They are so tender yet crispy!

Seafood Dinner! You will get a platter of lobster, shrimp, scallops, pike and stuffed shrimp.

The Friday Fish fry is all you can eat pike and is a true, old fashioned Wisconsin style fish fry.

Prime Rib is a Specialty of the House and is available only on Friday and Saturday nights. It is roasted in an Alto-Shamm Cook & Hold Oven that gently cooks the meat at low temperature. The Prime Rib is served perfectly tenderized and beautifully caramelized.

Mike tells me some of the most popular orders are for Combination Dinners. For instance diners can pick broasted chicken and a chop or BBQ ribs. Or they will order Prime Rib and Shrimp, or Baby Beef Tenderloin with Crab or with Chicken or Lobster or Shrimp or they can choose many other combos on the menu or even request special order pairings.

For all you seafood lovers there are over 17 choices for you. The shrimp, in all its glorious forms, is a good bet. Remember I stated the Shrimp Cocktail had Extra Jumbo Shrimp? Well in this restaurant all the shrimp dishes contain the same size shrimp. There are no dinky fried shrimp or puny scampi in this place! The Alaska King Crab is just what you would expect in an expensive seafood restaurant and the lobster is South African Cold Water Lobster Tail.

Daily Specials are a good way to stretch your dollars. Every Sunday is Chicken & Rib night and Tuesday brings All You Can Eat Shrimp. The special on Wednesday is Sirloin Steak and on Thursday its Broasted Chicken. There is also a Blackboard Special that changes every few days and is written on a blackboard behind the hostess stand. These specials offer copious amounts of food at reduced prices.

By now you have had a thoroughly enjoyable evening but don't stop yet. It's time for dessert! There is always a homemade sheet cake on the salad bar or go for the true supper club experience: the ice cream drinks and after dinner cocktails. Country Heights specializes in Grasshoppers, Charlie Browns, Golden Cadillacs, Pink Squirrels and Brandy Alexanders. You know you want one! ■

You can also treat yourself to broiled or fried cat fish, pike or cod. The broiled Salmon is excellent and the Orange Roughy is broiled to perfection. When you cannot decide which seafood entrée to try you have a way out of your dilemma. Order the

GO GREEN FOR ST. PATRICK'S DAY

BY HY-VEE NUTRITIONISTS MEGAN HORSTMAN (ASBURY) AND AMY CORDINGLEY (LOCUST)

In today's day and age more and more people are interested in healthy eating, and are asking nutrition professionals which foods to start implementing in their diets. One common tip we often hear is how important it is to consume a variety of color with meals and snacks—especially in regard to fruits and vegetables. With a colorful holiday right around the corner, what perfect timing to “Go Green” this March!

During St. Patrick's Day, the typical green foods that get the most attention nutrition-wise include those in the leafy green family—for example, spinach, kale, collard and mustard greens, etc. While it is true that dark, leafy green vegetables pack a nutrition punch, there are many other green vegetables (and fruits) to try this St. Patrick's Day. Below are just a few green produce items to try all month long.

KIWI

One medium kiwi provides about 60 calories, 100% of daily vitamin C needs and more potassium than half a banana. Kiwis also make a smart snack choice—just cut, scoop and eat.

AVOCADOS

Avocados contain monounsaturated fat, a good heart-healthy fat. This fruit is ready to eat when slightly soft, and can be added to dishes for its fresh and creamy flavor. Add to your favorite entrées, use as a substitute for your favorite condiment or even add to smoothies.

GREEN BELL PEPPERS

One pepper has only 30 calories, and delivers a day's worth of Vitamin C, supporting healthy immune function. Peppers are great sautéed in entrée dishes, or make a delicious crunchy snack with a dip.

BROCCOLI

One cup of broccoli provides an excellent source of Vitamin K, supporting bone health. Broccoli also contains as much Vitamin C as an orange, and is a good source of fiber to help with weight control and healthy digestion. Besides being eaten raw or cooked, broccoli can be added to soups, stews and casseroles for a health kick.

ASPARAGUS

This nutrient-dense vegetable contains folic acid, helping the body make healthy new cells and prevent birth defects during pregnancy. Need new ideas for asparagus recipes? Try Roasted Asparagus Salad with Citrus Dressing.

KOHLRABI

This unfamiliar vegetable is a member of the cabbage family. It has a sweet, juicy texture that tastes similar to broccoli stems. Enjoy raw, roasted, steamed or add to a favorite soup.

CUCUMBER

Cucumber is best eaten raw or barely cooked, leaving the skin on for added fiber benefits. Store up to one week in refrigerator; use leftover cucumber for a personal spa day.

A common sense approach to a positive attitude

NEVER SAY NEVER.

BY MATT BOOTH

A couple of the most dangerous words you can throw around are never and always. They are commonly used but are they really accurate? They are most often used in an accusatory, argumentative or self-pitying way. Even though I know that I should never use these words (see what I did there), I still catch myself starting sentences with, “you always...” or, “you never...”

- You never listen to me.
- You always leave your shoes in the doorway.
- You’re never home.
- You always get what you want.
- You never pay attention to me.
- You are always shouting at the children.
- You never answer when I call you.
- You never take the trash out.
- You always interrupt me.
- You always make plans without telling me.
- You always leave your clothes everywhere.
- You always doubt me.
- You’re always on your phone.
- You’re always working.

In the heat of the moment, never and always roll right off our tongues with an “all or nothing” attitude. These words are like verbal battering rams that force our point across. When someone tells me I never or always do something, it leaves me feeling disoriented and guilty, and I end up scrambling to justify my behavior. When I hear those words, I often go on the offensive and say something like, “Really? Never? I have never listened to you?” Naturally, this tactic rarely helps the situation and just raises the stakes. When a person uses “never” and “always” statements, they are not interested in establishing objective truth. Generally, they are trying to provoke an emotional response. Someone said to my wife recently, “oh you are always so positive”, well she will tell you that sounded more like a back handed compliment rather than a song of praise. You’ve always been skinny, you’ve always been positive, I’ve never seen you with a hair out of place... suddenly what someone was saying as a compliment seems like a lot of pressure. Always and never are heavy words that bring such finality to whatever the person always or never does.

Always and never conversations are unproductive because they always create defensiveness and never form connection (pun intended). Never and always conversations are negative no matter how we slice it. The reality is, we rarely always or never do or don’t do anything. It isn’t possible. These words are definitive, but often inaccurate. Using definitive words concerning someone else’s actions or behavior, is a destructive habit. In all or nothing thinking, there is no grey area, there is never any room for improvement or understanding. Never say never and always avoid always! ■

THE SMARTEST PERSON WHO EVER LIVED

BY BOB GELMS

In my “it does not count” opinion, the smartest person who ever lived was, unquestionably, Sir Isaac Newton. An awful lot of people disagree with me. The preponderance of their opinions puts Leonardo da Vinci in the number one spot.

For the purposes of this issue we will confine our investigation to da Vinci as number one. Mostly because America’s number one biographer, Walter Isaacson, has just published Leonardo, the best biography I have ever read on Leonardo da Vinci.

When I was in 4th grade in St. Thomas Moore grade school on the south side of Chicago, we had a series of biographies written for grade school kids. Most of the series was taken up with the saints. They had, however, a few biographies of famous people in history. The bookcase that housed this series was right next to my desk.

One day, as was usual, I was bored so I reached over and pulled out the book on da Vinci. It didn’t take long before I was hooked. The term “Renaissance Man” was new so I asked the kindly, ever so patient, Dominican nun who was only interested in the welfare and intellectual growth of her students. (sarcasm) She pronounced it for me and told me what it meant. Up to that point in my life it, for sure, was the coolest thing I had ever heard. From that point on I was fixated on Leonardo da Vinci.

There were a lot of surprises in store for me because the biography I read in that Catholic grammar school of course didn’t mention that da Vinci was vegetarian, gay, illegitimate, left-handed, a heretic who produced some of the finest religious paintings in history and the world’s leading procrastinator.

When I heard that Walter Isaacson was publishing a new biography, Leonardo, my first thought was, “Does the world really need ANOTHER biography of Leonardo da Vinci? After all there are only about 32,000 of them!” My second thought was that if there was any writer who could bring something fresh, exciting, and surprising to the subject of da Vinci’s life, it was, without a doubt, Walter Isaacson.

Mr. Isaacson does not shy away from difficult subjects. He has written about Steve Jobs, Albert Einstein, and Benjamin Franklin. His biography of Leonardo da Vinci is dazzling.

In Leonardo, Mr. Isaacson gives us a superb scrutiny of the master’s paintings. It is to our everlasting benefit that the author seems to possess an extraordinarily discerning eye for these works in addition to an erudite mind capable of critical analysis. This brings a whole new aspect to the career of Leonardo da Vinci.

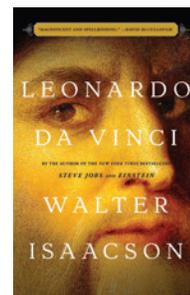

According to Mr. Isaacson, da Vinci looked at the world around him and saw that everything was related to everything else, something of a theme during the High Renaissance. Da Vinci, however, took it to regions unknown.

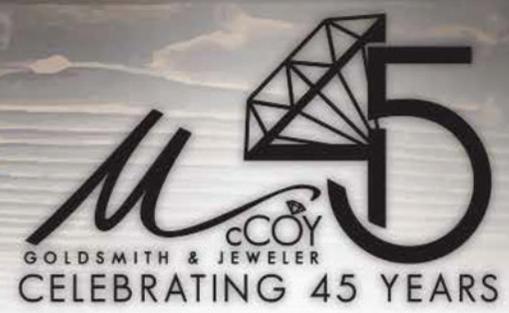

For example, he didn’t see that there was much of a difference between science and art or between art and the study of nature. All you need to get an idea of the relationship between art and science is to take a look at his breathtaking rendition of Vitruvian Man. The sensitive viewer will see a spectacular work of art but also the ideal of human proportions and geometry.

Sfumato is a painting technique invented by da Vinci to give depth to the edges of his subjects. It gives a sense of three dimensions. Coupled with the glazes he used, he got that smoky hazy feeling that seems to pervade his paintings.

Mr. Isaacson points out that da Vinci got this effect by carefully smearing the paint. It has been thoroughly documented that on a few of his works, Leonardo da Vinci inadvertently left his fingerprints, which have been used to confirm that he painted a few that weren’t, at first, attributed to him. This book is filled with little gems like that. The amount of detail Mr. Isaacson provides is prodigious.

Buy Leonardo, if for no other reason than to read the chapters on the Mona Lisa and The Last Supper. They are just riveting and well worth the price of admission. I can’t fit all of da Vinci’s interests in this review but the eminent art historian Kenneth Clark’s comment on Leonardo da Vinci seems to encapsulate his whole personality. Clark called him, “the most relentlessly curious man in history.” ■

$45K FOR 45 YEARS

Five years ago, 365Ink was a sponsor of McCoy Jeweler's amazing $40K for 40 years event. Charities competed each month through an online voting contest that awarded the winning charity piece(s) of fine jewelry. McCoy Jewelers donated over a dozen uniquely handcrafted designs to over a dozen local non-profit organizations in the Dubuque area, winning the Greater Tri-State Chapter of the Association of Fundraising Professionals Outstanding Philanthropic Organization award and the prestigious 365Ink Impact Award in 2013 for their event.

Fast forward to 2018, and McCoy Jewelers has reached their 45th Anniversary. We are excited to echo the $40K for 40 event with our $45K for 45 years.

CELEBRATING TRADITION

As one of the few custom, full-service jewelers in the tri-states, we strive to keep evolving what we do, and how we do it- all while staying true to our roots. We work to not only keep up with latest trends, styles, and technology, but to create them.

Our business model hasn't changed in the last 45 years; we don't consider ourselves to be the merchants of the ideas or products of others, we are the designers. We design and craft custom engagement rings, wedding bands, earrings, pendants, and everything in between. We pride ourselves in creating captivating custom jewelry that our customers will treasure for a lifetime.

As the number of jewelry store closings each year seemingly increases, gratefully, we have had an increasing amount of support from our local community; people in the tri-state area love what we've created. The significance of a ring or band is remembered and cherished for years and we promise to always give the best quality to produce a long lasting fine jewelry piece.

With that, we are happy to celebrate our 45th anniversary by helping deserving local charities. We want to say thank you to our community for its continued support for our business and our mission by giving back to those in it.

Gwen Werner's Good Advice

DEAR GWEN,

I have an anniversary coming up with my wife, and I really need to make this year special. We've been going through a bit of a rough patch. We're trying counseling, but we're currently sleeping in separate beds. How can I make this anniversary the most special, most unbelievable anniversary for her? She loves gardening, if that helps.

—Sincerely, Heavy-Hearted on Hillcrest

DEAR HEAVY-HEARTED ON HILLCREST,

Hey there, hot shot. They always say you should give the gift you would want to receive. What do you like? Try some stuff out, if you're not sure. You've got to really establish likes and dislikes, here. Go get a pedicure. You like that? Get a facial. You like that? Take a limo ride to a high school dance. Go cake tasting for a fictitious wedding. Hire some dudes to carry you on one of those thrones with the handles on each side. If there's money left, get your wife one of those things.

Maybe you already know what it is you like. Sunday football is cool, you could invite her to sit on her own couch and watch it. Maybe you like burritos. Tell her to go buy a burrito. Happy anniversary!

If you want to go the old fashioned route and get her something she likes, you still need to show her your manly prowess. Dig her the biggest, most masculine hole you can. Tear up the yard, if you have to. I know you can dig a big hole. Put on some jorts, dig a hole, blow her mind. Rub some dirt in it? Is that what the men say?

Or you could make a bunch of kids dig holes in your yard as punishment for wrongdoings and there are poisonous lizards and a story about love and onions!

Wait, that's the plot to Holes, featuring a young Shia LaBeouf. I love Shia LaBeouf! Maybe your wife loves Shia LaBeouf, too?

—You'll figure it out. xoxo Gwen

DEAR GWEN,

It's almost spring, but the end of winter is putting me in such a funk. We had a couple of nice days and now it's back to snowy and cold. How can I beat the winter blues?

—Yours, Moody Blues

DEAR MOODY BLUES,

We're on a planet swirling endlessly in the middle of an unrelenting ether, and we're amoebas on fleas on rats in a solar system in a universe in a galaxy and all people can talk about is what the littlest Kardashian named her kid and the service at the Tex Mex restaurant is fine just fine and boy isn't traffic a nightmare and taxes and bills and insurance premiums and lost dog fliers and where did the time go and suddenly you're on the brink of death and headed into the nothingness, where you've actually been all along. Floating in the vastness.

I'm just saying you're fine and we're all fine, but you're not and we're not. Whoa, did I just black out?

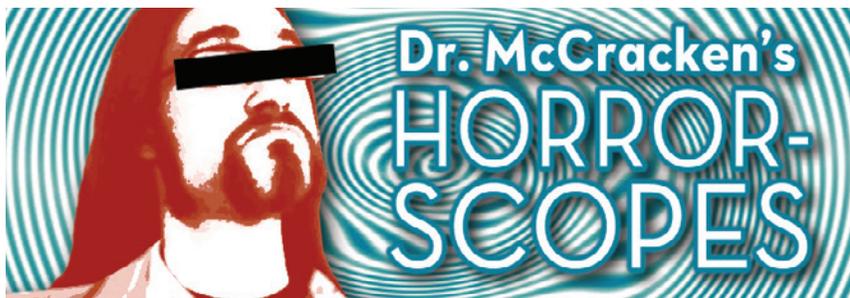

Buy some essential oils! Take more baths! Something, something, something.
—xoxo Gwen

ARIES
(MAR 21-APR 19)
Sudden changes in your romantic situation could occur when your favorite anime body pillow mysteriously becomes sentient, signs you up as a volunteer on an experimental peace mission to a third world country, and then assumes control of your estate. If you're currently committed to someone, make sure it's an "analog" "human."

TAURUS
(APR 20-MAY 20)
As the world economy continues to boom, so might the world if the president doesn't stop tweeting. Don't be surprised if you're surrounded by new work possibilities, such as digging your own grave or learning how to eat food that has been tainted by a nuclear explosion.

GEMINI
(MAY 21-JUNE 20)
Social events could put you in touch with some exciting new people who like your quick wit but also might want to harvest your organs. Contact with those in interesting professions could open up entirely new and ultimately exciting ways to wake up in a bathtub filled with ice and a sharp pain in your abdomen.

CANCER
(JUNE 21-JULY 22)
Expect to be inspired and motivated by your contact with the future you've been writing about in the form of A League of Their Own fan fiction where Geena Davis has tentacles, Madonna speaks Klingon, and there is crying.

(AUG 23-SEP 22)
It's time to prove yourself full of interesting, unusual developments in terms of medical science and exactly how much of the human body can be naturally filled with cheese fries before entering a catatonic state. A lot of letters and phone calls, some delivered via radial telepathy, could also be on your agenda.

LIBRA
(SEP 23-OCT 22)
Opportunities to increase your income by providing a useful alternative to the standard way of screaming all your fears about not recognizing any part of yourself in any part of the world could appear soon. Consider approaching your artistry honestly and objectively before trying to convince the world to move to a 26 hour day, using the extra time at the end of the year to catch up on necessary self-loathing that may have been passed over during busy work weeks or mental comas.

SCORPIO
(OCT 23-NOV 21)
Your lucky number is 31.

SAGITTARIUS
(NOV 22-DEC 21)
You might be tempted to participate in challenging sports such as imaginary curling or downhill rhinoplasty, but keep in mind the time you've already committed to coaching your local cross-country fluorescent light-tube eating team in their off season. There's no time for romantic aspirations or the love of your family or the ability to breathe normally and comfortably in a world that will never accept you as you are when it comes to winning a game.

CAPRICORN
(DEC 22-JAN 19)
You may find yourself run afoul of the Federation of Vaporous Government Entities, but it's truly unfair to call them fickle, as our minds, histories, and thought patterns moving forward will gleefully—and with no resistance—bend to their every desire.

You might want to carry a notebook and pen with you just incase you have to use both to construct a defense weapon against enemy forces who prey on weak-willed people who carry a notebook and pen with them instead of being busy forgetting everything to make mental space for the collapse of civilization.
